

Mrs. Marie Wolfe was severely beaten about the head and face shortly after midnight Tuesday morning in her home, 44 Main St., Newmarket. Charles Ward who was staying with Mrs. Wolfe and her daughter, fled to the stream behind the old theatre.

Harvey Gibney, 26 Ontario St. W., saw Rose Marie Wolfe run into the street and gave chase to the man who had come out of the Wolfe residence. He followed him to Water St. where the man disappeared.

Rose Marie Wolfe was awakened by her mother's screams Tuesday morning and ran down stairs into the street when she saw her mother being beaten.

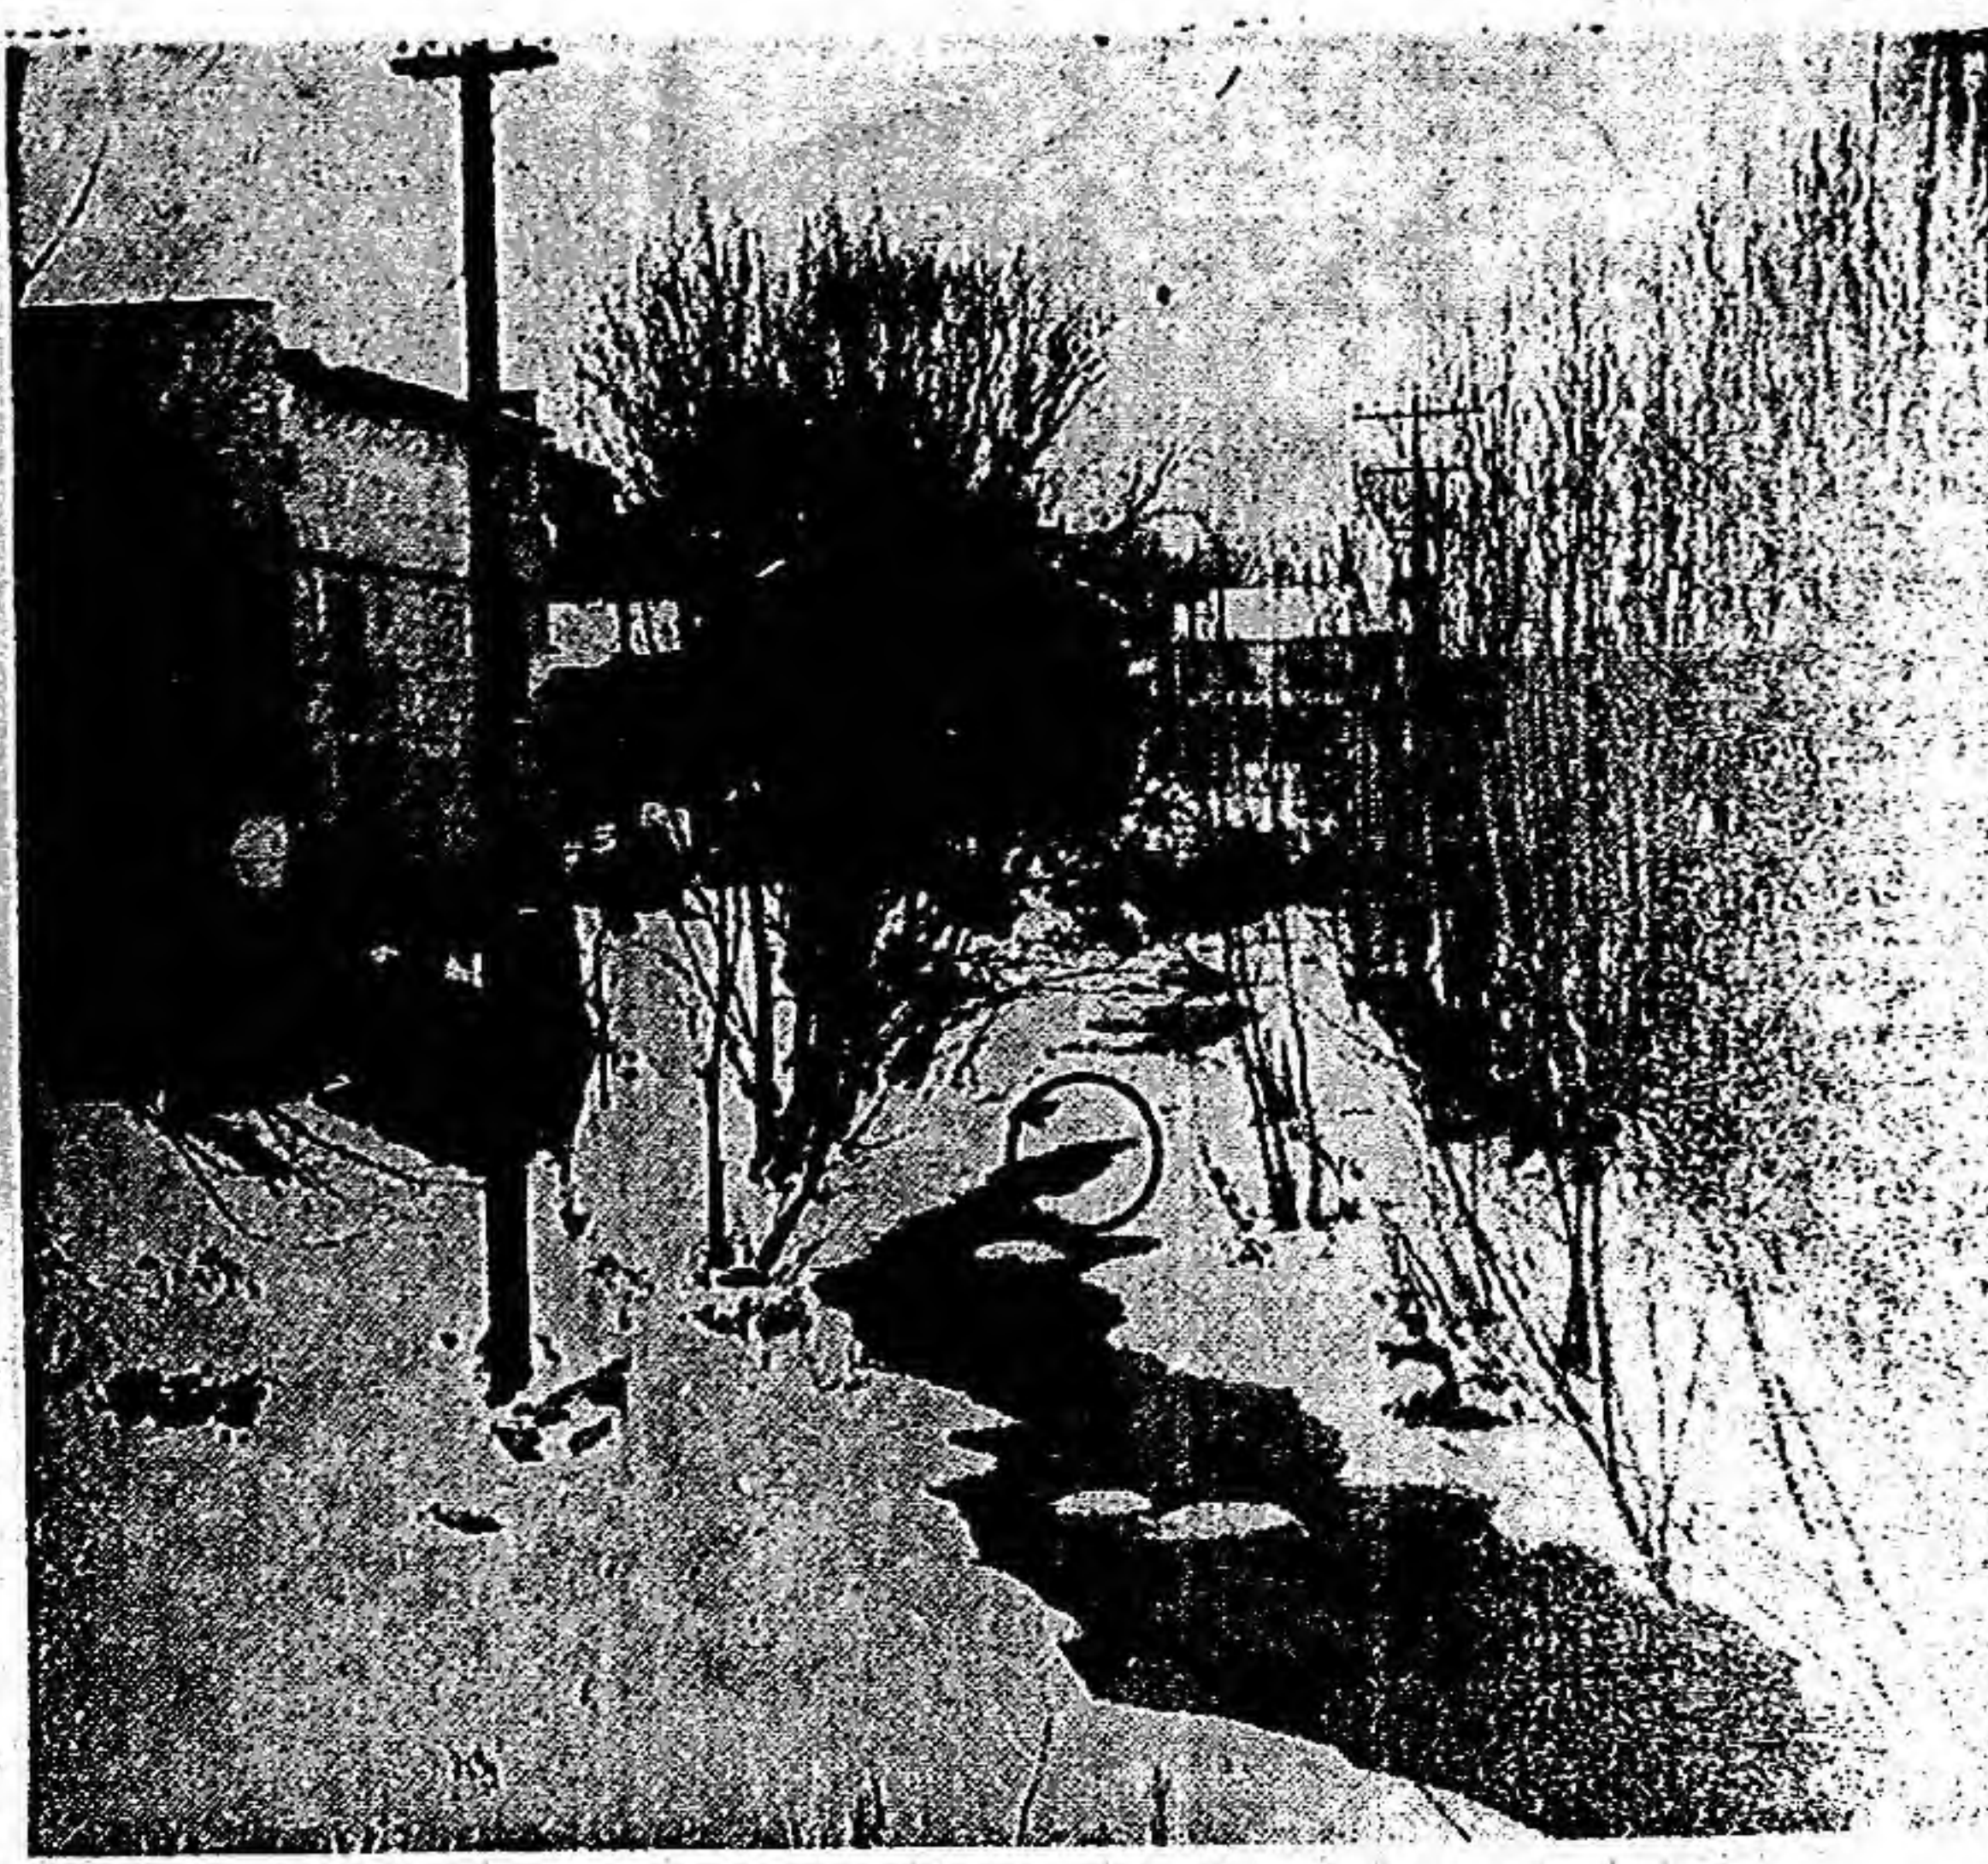

Deputy Chief Constable James Leeder found the body of Ward who died from exhaustion and bronchial pneumonia when he reached the stream.

ONE YEAR SENTENCE

David Couch was sentenced to one year in jail on Friday in Newmarket court by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake after he had pleaded guilty a week earlier to four charges of theft of registered letters from the mail. Couch was an employee at the Newmarket post office.

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Mr. Ed Moffat attended the funeral of his brother, Mr. Andrew W. Moffat, Collingwood, on Monday.

At 2.10 a.m. Tuesday morning, Deputy Chief Constable James Leeder, Newmarket, found the body of 60-year-old Charles Ward, Toronto, behind the old Strand theatre. The spot circled, above, is where Leeder and his brother, Constable Arnold Leeder, pulled the body from the shallow Holland River behind the business section, east of Main St. Less than two hours earlier, Mrs. Marie Wolfe, 44 Main St., had been beaten with a hammer. Coroner Dr. G. W. Williams, Aurora, revealed yesterday that an autopsy showed that Ward's death was accidental.

Aurora Proceeds With New $250,000 School In High School Building

Aurora town council passed a resolution on Monday night to "start proceedings" for the issuance of debentures to cover the cost of the purchase, renovation and addition of three rooms to the present high school building. The resolution was passed at the request of the public school board.

Crime Wave At King Twice In Two Weeks

For the second time in less than two weeks, a crime wave hit King last week. Police have a warrant out for the arrest of a man charged with theft of two cars, damage to several others and a tow truck, stealing three batteries, 32 gallons of gasoline, car tools and breaking into a general store.

Driving a car said to have been stolen in Toronto, which broke down near the south end of the village, the suspect was towed 300' by Vern Hill, Concord, operator of a county plow. Falling to get the stranger's car started, Hill drove to King City Motors shortly after 7 a.m. The man told Hill he belonged to the Motor League. The garage was not open. Proceeding to the parking lot to take out his plow, Hill told his occupant to remain in the car and "keep warm". He did. He stole it, police said.

Early the same morning, February 1, John Riddell, a farmer, said the battery from his car had been removed, windows were smashed, and tools taken. He said the milk house had been broken into and 32 gallons of gasoline were hosed from the tractor tank into four milk cans. Two of the empty cans had been discarded in the laneway. The battery and the remaining cans of gas were found in the first car driven by the suspect.

At Fleetwood Motors, two batteries were stolen, four others damaged, a new Hudson car badly damaged as well as a tow truck, amounting to $750. A car owned by Ross Atkinson had considerable body damage and a battery post broken. A similar attempt was made on Carl Archibald's car. Boards were ripped from a shed leading to Crawford Wells' general store. P.C. Charles Case, Aurora, investigated at King. P.C. Skidmore, Maple, investigated Mr. Riddell's loss.

INDUSTRY SEEKS SITE

Local municipal councils have received letters from the General Fireguard Corp. Ltd. of Windsor, making enquiries about the possibility of locating in this district. The letter says the firm is expanding and requires space for a plant of 25,000 sq. ft. The letter asks about taxes, labor, prevailing wages, etc.

SCOUTS' SALVAGE ON SATURDAY

The Newmarket Boy Scouts will complete their salvage drive Saturday. All streets will be covered east of Main St. when the scouts will collect papers and magazines. They ask residents to leave papers on their verandahs or at the edge of the street. The proceeds from the salvage will go toward the development of the Newmarket scout camp near Pine Orchard.

Flees After Hammer Attack, Body Found Floating In River

Home And Store Swept By Fire As Housewife Hangs Out Clothes

Mrs. Reuben Lahn, Lake Wilcox, was hanging out her washing when fire swept through her home and small grocery store Tuesday. The one storey frame building is located on the side-road which runs from Oak Ridge along the south side of the lake.

The fire which broke out just before noon gutted the building, destroying most of the household furnishings; heat and smoke damaged the entire stock in the store. The living quarters are in the back part of the building.

Mr. Lahn, owner of the store, works for a construction company in Willowdale while his wife manages the store at home. He was not at home when the fire broke out, nor was his stepson, Allan Bain, 14, who attends Oak Ridge public school.

The Aurora fire brigade rushed to the Lahn store and was able to prevent the entire building from burning down. Mrs. Lahn was suffering from shock soon after she discovered the place was on fire. She was attended by Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora. She was resting at the home of neighbors Tuesday afternoon.

The store had served a small community on the south side of the lake consisting mostly of winterized cottages, a mile east of Oak Ridge.

"I think it must have been caused by electrical wiring," said Lahn on Tuesday. He said that his wife had thought it was an oil stove, "I inspected the stove and it wasn't that," he said.

Mrs. A. E. Patchell, a neighbor, offered the Lahns one of their small cottages. "It has just been redecorated and you are welcome to use it," she told Mr. Lahn.

Recorded Vote Passes Final Arena Bills

The Aurora town council took a recorded vote on Monday on the payment of remaining bills for the renovation and installation of artificial ice in the Aurora arena. The vote, which passed 6 to 2, was asked for by Councillor Chas. Davies.

The question of the bills came before council at its last meeting and was held over when members of the council questioned the quality of the completed job. It was agreed that a committee of council inspect the work. On Monday night Mayor Alex. Bell said he was satisfied with the job done but Councillor Robert Gundy protested the condition of the concrete floors which, he said, were chipped and on which the finish was worn.

Deputy-Reeve James Murray said that the work had been rushed in an effort to finish the job in time for early skating, and that other workmen had gone onto the floor before it was fully set. He felt that while the surface was not as good as could be hoped for, there was good reason for it.

On the recorded vote, all members of council voted in favor of passing the accounts except Councillor Gundy and Davies.

300 Visit Art Show

The opening of a showing of 30 pictures by three artists at Pickering College on Saturday night was a grand success. Over 300 attended the opening on Saturday night and saw the show on Sunday afternoon.

Each of the three artists, Fred Hagan, Court St., Newmarket, Eric Freifield, Toronto, and Harley Parker, Willowdale, entered ten works on a wide variety of subjects. The men are instructors at the College of Art in Toronto.

The choice of Pickering College for the show was a happy combining of the beliefs of the college authorities that the school should offer every opportunity to acquaint its pupils and as wide a circle outside the school as possible, with the work of Canadian artists, and the beliefs of the artists themselves that more Canadian work should be shown outside the conventional precincts of art galleries.

The artists were extremely pleased with the initial reception to the show. Comments overheard showed an exceptional interest in the work on display, and a response to the stimulation of a new approach.

The three men shared a similarity only in that their work represented an approach to contemporary problems with traditional techniques. They described their work as a means to bridge the gap between the past and the present, the application of traditional methods to the solution of the problems of modern life.

The show was opened by R. E. K. Rourke, headmaster of Pickering College, and Mr. Freifield spoke on the reasons for the show. The wives of Pickering College staff members served refreshments.

The show is open to the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and on Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 4 to 5.30 p.m., and Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 5 p.m.

HIRE ASSISTANT CLERK

The Aurora council on Monday night hired Kenneth G. Moses, Elmira, as assistant clerk on Monday night. Mr. Moses began his duties on Wednesday.

The flight from a Main St. apartment in Newmarket where he had beaten up Mrs. Marie Wolfe with a hammer ended in cold death for 60-year-old Charles Ward early Tuesday morning. His body was found face upward, in the stream behind the old Strand theatre. According to an autopsy by Dr. A. J. Ritchie, Newmarket, death was from causes other than drowning.

Ward had been staying with Mrs. Wolfe and her ten-year-old daughter, Rose Marie, at their second-floor apartment, 44 Main St. He and Mrs. Wolfe had made plans to be married in the spring. Mrs. Wolfe told police she had met him several months ago in Toronto. "He was so kind," she said. "He was a nice man."

After Mrs. Wolfe resisted his attempted assault after midnight early Tuesday morning, Ward snatched a ball hammer which he had hidden and inflicted wounds and bruises about her face and head. Her screams awakened her young daughter who ran into the street after Ward fled from the apartment clad only in shirt, trousers and stockings.

Harvey Gibney, returning from a hockey game, saw what was happening in the street at 12.40 a.m. He said Mrs. Wolfe fell in to the street, her face beaten and bleeding and told him to chase the man. Ward went south on Main St. and turned toward the Water St. bridge. When Gibney turned the corner, he had disappeared. Gibney questioned a motorist who drove along the bridge, and searched around the stream under the bridge but could not find the man. He reported to police and went home but did not hear of the man's death until reporters told him in the morning.

Deputy Chief Constable James Leeder found the body behind Brice's store, half floating in the river at 2.10 a.m. He and Constable Arnold Leeder pulled Ward from the river on a long ladder. Coroner Dr. G. W. Williams, Aurora, was called.

Trunks in the snow behind the old theatre showed that Ward had walked slowly into the river, protected from Gibney's view by the dark shadows of buildings. When he stepped into the cold water the shock was too much. He was suffering from bronchial pneumonia at the time.

Ironically, Ward had used a hammer which had belonged to the late Tony Wolfe to beat up the 52-year-old widow. Mrs. Wolfe's daughter, Rose Marie, had saved her late father's tools and kept them cleaned and in order as a sentimental tribute to him. Tony Wolfe at one time kept a harness shop in Newmarket.

Last Sunday Rose Marie had noticed the hammer missing. Mrs. Wolfe and Ward said that they did not know where it had gone. Ward brought it out from under the couch when he started hitting Mrs. Wolfe, according to (Page 7, Col. 3)

East Gwillimbury Twp. Appoints An Arbitrator For Union Settlement

East Gwillimbury council on Saturday appointed Welly Stevens, Sharon, arbitrator to represent the township in the settlement of the boundary lines of the proposed union school section with Newmarket. Council acted following the presentation of a petition from East Gwillimbury taxpayers by Max Stiles. Inspector O. M. MacKillop also appeared.

Earlier, the Newmarket public school board had expressed its support of a union school section with the south half of S. S. 3 which includes the urban section north of the town line along Second St. A meeting of the ratepayers of S. S. 3, on Monday of last week also approved the union school proposal.

At the present time, the school section faces a difficult problem of providing accommodation for a growing population of school children. The school section has been sending the overflow, between 45 and 50 pupils, to Newmarket schools and paying a non-resident fee. The public school board in Newmarket was forced, however, to raise the fee and the cost was considered prohibitive.

An advantage to the proposal is that the cost of accommodating the pupils in Newmarket is absorbed by increased grants, to the school section taxpayers.

At a meeting of the ratepayers of S. S. 3, the possibilities of the erection of a new school or enlarging the present one were explored but it was shown that the cost was prohibitive. Another consideration was the choice of site. S. S. 3 is long and narrow. It is felt that the distance children have to travel to reach the school also ruled out the possibility of building a new one or adding to the existing one.

The union school was accepted by the ratepayers as the only practical choice.

As an advantage to the proposal is that the cost of accommodating the pupils in Newmarket is absorbed by increased grants, to the school section taxpayers.

York County's Oldest Resident 'Granny' Alexander Dies At 106

Brownhill's own "Granny", Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander, died in a Sutton rest home on Wednesday. She would have celebrated her 107th birthday in another few weeks.

The oldest resident in York County, Granny had a host of pioneer memories and was always willing to tell about her early experiences. She had lived in Brownhill until a month or so ago when she went to the Sutton home.

As the years of her residence in Brownhill grew, the school children began the custom of singing "a happy birthday" to her each year as another milestone was passed. Each year, her neighbors baked her a cake and she shared it with her visitors.

Mrs. Alexander was married twice, outliving both husbands. They were Andrew Miller and Robert Alexander. She bore 12 children, all of whom predeceased her. She is survived by 35 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren and 12 great, great grandchildren.

Many stories grew up about her as she grew older. One was how, married at 14, in her 90's she refused a third offer of marriage because the suitor was a "young whippersnapper of 70". Mrs. Alexander's Upper Canadian ancestors came from Ireland in 1830. Born in Pickering township, she moved to Markham when she was 12. She moved further north in the county 24 years ago and has spent the last 31 years in Brownhill.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lapp was awakened by the cries of her son, Allan, 12, and her daughter, Bonnie, 11, in time to flee with her children from her home near Pefferlaw early Tuesday morning. The 150-year-old home was completely destroyed by flames. Leslie Comer, a boarder, and his son, Dick, 16, also escaped. The old home was bought by Mrs. Lapp about a year ago and was a landmark in Georgina twp. Mrs. Lapp is a war widow, her husband having been killed with the 48th Highlanders during the second world war. The fire is believed to have started near the chimney on the west wall. The Sutton fire brigade responded to the call.

Mrs. John Kellington of Ravenshoe is visiting her son, Mr. Carl Kellington, and Mrs. Kellington.

Mrs. Sharpe of Toronto has returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. George White, and Mr. White.

(Intended for last week)

There was a good attendance at the United church Sunday morning despite the cold weather. A contralto solo by Mrs. Greives, Sutton, was much enjoyed. Rev. G. Campbell brought a fine message from the text II Peter 3: 18. He pointed out that the only true progress we can make is our growth in our spiritual life. The choir, led by Mrs. A. Cowieson, sang The Lord's Prayer.

Miss Peggy Locke spent the weekend at home. Miss Phyllis Winch was also home for Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Winch, Sr., spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Erwin Winch.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knights, Queensville, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boothby.

Sorry to report Mr. Edward Alder is quite ill and confined to his home. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Walter Draper was the guest of honor at a small birthday party January 24.

The ladies of the community are reminded that February 9 is the World's Day of Prayer. The local meeting will be held in the Christian church.

The Church St. W.A. group is meeting at the home of Mrs. Perry Winch, Sr., on Friday, Feb. 2.

Mrs. Barton Ward spent several days last week visiting her daughters, Mrs. Earle Weddel, Newmarket, and Mrs. Fred Hall, Sharon.

SNOWBALL

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reddick were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carroll.

Space would not permit me to name everyone who is ill at present, but we wish everyone a speedy recovery.

Snowball W.I. reports another successful euchre. Those taking home prizes were Mrs. V. Farren, ladies' first; Mrs. Ruth Wright, second; and Mrs. Carmen Wilson, consolation; Mr. Calvin Mitchell, gentlemen's first; Mr. Harry Bovair, second; Mr. Robert Cain, consolation; door prize, Mr. Ed Reddick.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes and daughters of Newmarket were Sunday guests of Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gould.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

by V. C. PORTEOUS * Director
ONTARIO
PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of weekly stories which V. C. Porteous, a director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, is writing about the visit of Canada's champion plowmen to the British Isles, Belgium, Denmark and the Netherlands.

Copenhagen, Denmark—In the days when Vikings roamed the seas it probably took a week or more to sail between Denmark and England. Not being Vikings, we decided to go by air rather than by sea and in about two hours flying time we had travelled from London to Copenhagen.

At first the air was "pockety" but it wasn't long before the big passenger plane had climbed above a bank of clouds at an altitude of between 9,000 and 10-000 feet. From then on it was smooth flying. Except for that brief period after take-off and just before landing we didn't see much of the land below, but we saw enough to give us a "birds-eye view" of the two countries.
The view is certainly different from what you see when your feet are on the ground—the land looks flat as a pancake.

When we stepped off the plane at Copenhagen's airport we found a number of people waiting to welcome us. Among them was E. M. Cornett of the Canadian legation in Denmark. Meeting Mr.
Cornett here was quite a coincidence for he lived for a time in my home town, Owen Sound, Ont., and I knew his father, Rev.
A. D. Cornett, who was United church minister there before moving, a few years ago, to Oshawa. We had quite a chat about old times.

That night we (Herbert Jarvis, Agincourt, the champion horse plowman; Hugh Leslie, Georgetown, the champion tractor plow-man, and myself) were guests of Knud Petersen of the Esso company in Denmark and L. H. de la Cour representing the C.N.R.
here at a dinner and show. It was a most enjoyable evening.
Danish Brown Cattle

The next day we left the hotel about 9 a.m. for a tour and to see a herd of Danish brown cattle at a farm not far from the city.
As we entered one of the buildings I thought for a minute that I was back home for standing there was a milking machine exactly like one in use on my farm.
We were impressed with the cattle. About 70 percent of all the cattle in Denmark, we were told, is of this breed. As the name indicates, they are brown in color, heavily constituted and good milkers with a fairly high test. The mature cows in this herd averaged about 1,300 pounds in weight.

This large, well-kept dairy farm was once operated privately by several generations of one family. In 1902 they turned the farm and herd over to the government for experimental and demonstration purposes. Today stock from this farm is in demand all over Denmark, especially the bull calves for artificial insemination units.

We also visited an experimental station for pig breeding.
About 300 animals were there under experiment for breed and feed. They are fed three times a day, we learned, and individual records are kept of the progress of each pig.

We also had time to inspect an experimental milk processing plant. It is very much like those at home and being a model plant it is just about perfect in every detail.

When you realize that about 90 percent of the land here is productive and nearly 80 percent is actually farmed it is easy to understand why there are so many experimental and demonstration farms and stations.
There are also many farm organizations such as co-operatives and special societies for the stimulation of breeding and other stock improvements. Nearly every farmer belongs to one or more of these organizations. This no doubt explains why Danish farm products are so highly regarded.

During our tour we visited Roskilde, formerly a residential town of Danish kings. It possesses a famous cathedral that dates back to the 13th century.
It is so well preserved that it was hard to believe that the main part of the sacred edifice is more than 800 years old.

This stately cathedral is the seat of the bishop of Zealand who is head of the Danish state church. It is quite a contrast to many of the churches in Denmark whose architecture is what you would call "modernistic" in design. Perhaps the most famous is Grundtvig's church in Copenhagen. It is a large yellow brick structure and resembles a pipe organ with the banks of pipes standing out against the sky.

And while we are on the subject of churches it might interest you to know that the state church, which is Lutheran, is maintained by taxes. This does not bar other denominations from establishing here but they must meet their financial obligations through private contributions.
I think this is enough for this letter although I could go on for pages about Denmark. It is a fascinating country, much like Canada, and the Danes are very proud of it. As for the Danes I must say that you could not wish to meet a better class of people.

The boys are quite well and we all agree that our visit here has been all too short. The next letter will be from Holland.
Regards from all of us.

Aurora Bible Society Sponsors Essay Contest

The Aurora Branch of the Bible Society has announced an essay competition with valuable prizes, open to all young people 15 to 17 years of age.

There are two sets of prizes, those of $50 and down, donated by the Upper Canada Bible Society for the best essays in the province of Ontario. Second, two local prizes of $5 and $3 offered to Aurora young people of the same age, for the two best essays from Aurora entered in the provincial contest.

Bulletins containing full particulars have been posted in the Sunday schools and the high school. Helpful material may be had through the local society officers: Rev. K. D. Whatmough, president, and John Gowen, Larmont St., secretary. Local ministers will help contestants. Essays must be in the Toronto office by March 31. Contestants must be from 15 to 17 years of age on March 31.

MOUNT ZION

The Sunday morning service was well attended last week.
However, we would like to see more children at Sunday school.

The Young People's meeting will be held on Friday evening in the church. Mr. and Mrs.
Dave Elliott are in charge of the meeting.

Sunday services are Sunday school at 10 a.m. and church service at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Ida Bertolin is convalescing following a tonsil operation.
Mrs. Henry Days has been confined to bed under the doctor's care.

Mrs. John Cooper was confined to hospital for several days last week.

Fifteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. Fred King for the quilting. Two quilts were completed.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morris spent Sunday afternoon with Mr.
and Mrs. E. Archibald of Richmond Hill. Mrs. Archibald has been ill with pneumonia.

ANSNORVELD

Rev. Frens conducted the services at the Christian Reform church on Sunday.

Mrs. W. VanDyke has returned home after undergoing a serious operation at York County hospital.

The P.T.A. will hold its monthly meeting at the school on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horlings have gone to the U.S.A. for a few days where they expect to attend meetings of the Michigan
Vegetable Market Gardeners Association.

Mr. T. Hagen returned home from the hospital where he has been under observation for several days.

KETTLBY

On Saturday, Feb. 3, Christ church Sunday-school enjoyed a skating party on Kettlby rink.
Refreshments were served afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Beatty.

Christ church Ladies' Guild will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 13, at the home of Mrs. J. Harmon. We should like to see all members present.

Meeting starts 10:45 a.m.

This week we have the great pleasure of sending birthday greetings to our Christ church members. First to the beloved senior member, Miss C. Fox, who will celebrate her 92nd birthday on Thursday, Feb. 8. Also to the Vicar Rev. F. V. Abbott, whose birthday is on the same date. On Friday, Feb. 9, Master Bobby Sproule will be five years and on Saturday, Feb. 10, his mother, Mrs. N. Sproule, will celebrate her birthday. We all wish everyone of you many happy returns and may God's blessing rest upon you all.

Miss A. Ineson was a weekend guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Hunter.

Mrs. H. Gritten and family attended the ice follies in Toronto on Friday, Feb. 2.

Services next Sunday at Christ church will be Sunday-school 2 p.m., Holy Communion 3 p.m.

VISIT WITH JUNCOSES

GOLDEN GLOW
says

I am writing this in answer to a letter that asks have I seen any cardinals around this winter?
No—I am very sorry to say I haven't. Those lovely, friendly birds! But I did see a pretty sight the other day which interested me so much I want to tell about it.

I was going west on Millard Ave. and after passing Raglan, I became aware of bird voices—they were all talking at once and they seemed excited—yes, and certainly cheerful, not frightened—oh, but then, when they are frightened they are invariably quiet and still.

As I approached the corner of Millard and Church, where you go round the end of Church before you proceed up Millard Ave.
(that awful corner), I could hear it louder and louder! So I very softly went across the corner to the home of Mr. Edward Barker and there in a not very tall locust tree were hundreds of juncoes and were they ever having a grand time! As I stepped nearer there was a dead silence and one more step sent many of them into the tall cedars of the hedge beside the locust tree. But they came back!

That locust tree was covered with seed pods and they were feasting to their hearts' content.

Hated to Leave Them

I hated to leave them and was still looking up enjoying the sight—yes, and the sound—when two friends came along and asked,
"What do you see, Golden Glow?" So they saw them, in a measure, but not as I saw them first, for many had flown up into the cedars and stayed there.

I wonder how they ever found that special tree—and how so many managed to be together to enjoy it? Can they send "bird messages" to their friends or were they going somewhere in a flock? Well at any rate, it was my delightful privilege to be passing at that special time and see and enjoy them.

It has been some job, with all the snow, these past few days to keep my feathered friends fed.
The other day, just after I'd fed my little sparrows, down swooped a bunch of starlings, like a black cloud, and started to gobble up all the food. I rapped on the window and away they went and before they renewed their attack, back the sparrows came and got more or less of the food
—each one snatching a piece and flying off with it—to eat it safely elsewhere.

But the squirrels have been having a fine time frisking round all winter so far—but this cold snap will likely drive them into their winter homes for a while—they, too, share the sparrows' food and it is such fun to watch them.

No doubt whatever that Mr.
Groundhog saw his shadow last Friday at noon—so keep your furry goloshes and your fur mittens out for a while longer—and these cute ear-muffs you boys wear in place of a cap.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Herb Gladman was into the office last Thursday, looking fit and rested and with some news about former Newmarket people who have left this frozen clime for the balm of Vancouver.

He had dinner with the Gills (Herman used to run a clothing store here) and a telephone chat with Harry Bell, who with his wife Anne, used to operate a drugstore in town. Spent an evening with Roy Middlebrook and his wife, and their son-in-law, John Hamilton, and Mrs. Hamilton. Another visit was paid to Dr. Hackett who used to be a dentist in town.

But for sheer coincidence, his meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams takes the cake. Herb travelled down to San Francisco for a few days and when he boarded the bus to return to Vancouver, already on board were Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Herb has been away a month. He set out shortly after closing up his express agency. His return will brighten a trio of bridge players, Howard Gable, Bill Young and Bob Martin. They used to enjoy a regular game with Herb that, from the individual accounts of the players, was fought out with loaded pistols on the table top.

Took advantage of a long standing invitation to visit the Whitchurch Gun Club range a week ago Sunday. We didn't really expect to find anyone there; there was a raw wind from the north and the temperature was below zero. Fact is that we underestimated the enthusiasm of the members. There were 15 or 20 of them out.

They have a range of 25 acres or so on the Aurora sideroad between the fifth and sixth, about a half mile east of the tracks. Their range is well marked with welcome signs and they've even built a clubhouse with a barrel stove.

The club is, in a way, the offshoot of the Whitchurch Conservation Club from which they lease the range. Competition among the club members keeps them busy but not so busy to miss inter-club shoots. Scarborough shooters were up a couple of weeks ago, and before Christmas, they lived matters with fowl shoots.

Howard Morton is president of the club which has 50 members. Among those we knew there were Dan Bovair and Stan and Slim Allen, Bert Morrison, and Harry Hodges, Newmarket. Doc MacPherson from Mount Albert, Bruce Gould from Uxbridge, Grover Woods, Mike Stephens, George Jiggins from Aurora. John Lowe, the Uxbridge undertaker, was there too, assuring all and sundry his visit was non-professional.

Three of the club members, Morrison, Woods and Jiggins, have their medals for breaking a straight 50 birds.

The Welsh fire at Holland Landing last week was a miserable sort of an affair—all fires are. But this one more so because of the sub-zero temperature and an east wind which blew through the valley and chilled a man to the marrow of his bones. It took us a day to get the chill out, and that even when the house burned with solid flame and thawed the ground for yards around.

It takes some courage to fight a fire in that kind of weather. The spray of a hose is painful to experience. The men who man the trucks of the volunteer brigades deserve a lot of credit.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

FEBRUARY 5, 1926

The directors of Mount Albert cemetery company met on Monday evening and appointed the following officers: pres. B. Stiver; sec., W. R. Steeper; treas., H. Ross; grounds com., E. Wagg and W. Willbee; auditors, W. Willbee and H. Spang. Mr. T. J. Spaulding, inspector of the Industrial Home, and Mrs. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bassett, Aurora, leave on Tuesday for a three months' cruise. Their trip includes the Canary Islands, Egypt, Palestine, Pompeii, Rome, Naples, returning home by the British Isles.

New laid eggs were so plentiful on the market last Saturday that the price came down to 42 cents.

By defeating Bradford at the arena here on Thursday night by a score of 11-2 the Newmarket junior hockey team won its sixth straight game and is the winner of the group. Thoms scored five of the local goals. Players were goal, Corbett; def., Thoms, Perrault; wings, Marshall, Murray; centre, Marks; subs, Trivett, Giles.

A "Grand Ice Festival" is being held in Mount Albert on Feb. 15 under the auspices of the Y.P.S. Doris Stokes, Marion Hopkins and Mabel Scott are contestants for Queen and Frank Ross, Donald DeGeer and Jack Jarvis for King.

Dr. Ira Freil, Stouffville, is taking a month's post graduate work at the Poly-Clinic hospital, New York City.

The Sutton Summer Fair and Horse Show Association held its annual meeting on Saturday. Officers appointed were: hon. pres., Alfred Rogers; pres., J. A. Lake; vice pres., Carl Morton, T. Culverwell; sec., W. J. Kay.

The ice harvest has started and the blocks are 14 inches thick.

FEBRUARY 8, 1901

The Royal Templars held a pancake social on Tuesday evening. W. Clifton made the pancakes. Chairman was J. E. Hollingshead, and the entertainment was provided by Mr. McKay, T. Hunter, R. Willis, Miss Gray, the Misses Thompson and J. S. Green.

Rev. G. McCulloch is visiting his mother near Port Perry this week and will preach in Toronto on Sunday.

Miss Addie Skinner, a graduate of Newmarket High and Model schools, has received a position in a school near Wiar-ton.

Icemen at Jackson's Point are elevating ice by steam power this season, instead of by horsepower.

Another cold dip on Saturday night: 15 below zero on Sunday morning.

Miss Ethel Pipher has gone to Oshawa to attend college.

At a meeting of the newly elected board of directors of Newmarket on Thursday, the old officers were re-elected as follows, pres., E. Jackson; sec., M. W. Bogart; treas., J. E. Pearson; chairman of grounds com., J. A. Bastedo.

During the year 1900 there were registered with the town clerk 40 births, 41 marriages and 41 deaths.

A public meeting will be held on Thursday at the town hall to start a beet sugar factory, which will be a $300,000 industry, in Newmarket. J. E. Hamilton, vice president of the American Beet Root Company of New York and Prof. Shuttleworth of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph will give addresses.

The carnival at Zephyr was a great success. Prizewinners were A. Hagerman, Miss Mann, Sutton, Charles Summerville, Eva Walton, Clark Weir.

PAGE FOUR THURSDAY, THE EIGHTH DAY OF FEBRUARY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

ANNEXATION OF NORTH END

The annexation of 200 acres of land to the west of Newmarket, to bring the town's west boundary to Yonge St., inevitably raises the possibility of the annexation of the area to the north of Newmarket. Indeed, there are already rumors of a petition which will shortly be presented to residents in the north end urging that they be brought within the town's boundary.

Newmarket's reluctance to consider such a possibility is easily understood. The north end is not a high taxation area, and it does require considerable in the way of civic services, a combination which adds disproportionately to the town's costs. As a matter of fact, this condition could just as well work against advocacy of annexation in the north end itself. The residents are not likely to desire a change which would increase their taxes, despite the return in the form of extended civic services.

A major consideration which would favor annexation from the north end point of view is the advantage of Newmarket schools, but the proposed union school section will give them those advantages without annexation.

But while annexation proposals might be greeted coolly by both parties at the present time, Newmarket's rate of growth indicates that sooner or later, it is bound to extend north both on the east and west sides of the north end, and eventually, even "island" the present built-up area. Sooner or later, Newmarket will be bound to annex the north end. Wouldn't it be more practical to undertake it within the next few years than to wait?

If the north end were annexed now, Newmarket would have an opportunity to plan its growth, and thus save considerable expense in the future. The longer Newmarket waits, the more it will have to undertake to fit the north-end into the Newmarket pattern of costs, restrictions and services. A land-use by-law, for example, if applied now to an annexed north end, could prevent the growth of below standard neighborhoods in the future, neighborhoods which, say 20 years hence, could cost the town considerable in lost taxes.

East Gwillimbury too has a large interest in annexation. A municipality which is partly rural and partly urban is costly to the farmers, and limited in services to urban sections. This condition is well demonstrated in the difficulties of S. S. 3, which includes the north end, where taxes per capita are low in the urban section and extremely high in the rural section. And, in effect, services for the urban section are limited by the ability of the rural section to pay for them. There seems no way out of this condition, which is general wherever there are mixed urban and rural sections in a municipality, apart from a wholesale revision of the standards of assessment.

Even though annexation be some years away, the issue seems pressing enough that the East Gwillimbury and Newmarket councils could at least establish an informal liaison towards standardizing municipal services and practices so that when annexation comes about, its course will be easier.

GROWTH THE BEST THING?

Mr. Beverley Matthews, retiring president of the Toronto Board of Trade, believes that by the year 2000, Toronto's population will probably be three millions, possibly five millions. This estimate of Toronto's growth should, he hoped, give cause to "stop and think, and plan."

We quite agree. But where Mr. Matthews is concerned with the absorption of this population growth in the city, we would hope that the planning would be directed towards keeping this growth outside the city.

Big cities are obsolete. They are financially unsound, a ready target for the enemy, a breeding spot of social evils. Mr. Matthews apparently feels that these disadvantages can be by-passed by sound planning and a different way of financing the city's administration. But sound city planning, as it is practised nowadays, requires increasing decentralization, the breaking down into smaller units of the huge concentrations of homes, industries and services in the cities. As for financing, as Mr. Matthews notes, the money all comes from the taxpayer, whether paid on property to the city, on goods to the province, or income to the nation. Decentralized populations are more cheaply administered. No matter how it gets its income, the Toronto visualized by Mr. Matthews in 2000 is going to cost the taxpayer more than it would if his anticipated population increase were spread over the smaller cities and towns of the province.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

ACTION ON CIVIL DEFENCE

Civil defence program for Canada, for all the public knows about it, could have been on the "Top Secret" lists for the last couple of years. Except for news of appointments of directors and co-ordinators and squabbles over who will pay for civil defence, one would suppose the program to be a myth.

Several committees have been appointed and have apparently given the subject considerable thought, but so far their conclusions have not reached the public who are, after all, those most immediately concerned with what to do if a bomb falls. So it is most welcome news when Reeve Arthur Evans announces, as he did in Newmarket council on Monday night, that some progress is being made in getting the matter of civil defence down to the practitioners' level.

Reeve Evans' announcement arose out of a report to council on the formation of a county council committee on civilian defence. The next step will be, apparently, the formation of a local defence committee and instruction of its members in specialized duties. Newmarket and Aurora are in what are considered evacuation areas for Toronto so that the local committees will be chiefly concerned with provision of accommodation, storage and assistance generally to refugees.

But even if no bombs are expected, there is considerable to be done and it is to be hoped that local defence organizations can be set up at an early date.

WHO ARE 'THEY'?

There's never a conversation in Newmarket, or Aurora, or any other country town, which lasts for any length of time without the introduction of an unnamed "they". And once "they" have been introduced, "they" remain until the conversation is over. "They" should have done this. Why don't "they" do that? "They" don't know what they are doing. The faults attributed to "they" are limited only by the amount of time available.

Who are "they"? We suspect "they" are members of the town council, of the school board, of the provincial and federal governments. "They" are the people we elect or appoint to run our affairs for us and who we blame for everything from the weather to the price of milk.

But are "they" really to blame? "They" are our servants—we elected or appointed them to office, but does our responsibility end with the counting of the vote? The law says that the master is responsible for the acts of the servant committed on the master's behalf. We are responsible for the actions of our elected representatives. Or put in another form, we get the kind of government we deserve.

It would be far closer to the truth if, instead of "they", the word "we" was used, and would not our world be a far happier place if we said "we" should do this or that, and then went ahead and did it? This "they" business, this letting George do it, will accomplish little of which we can be proud. If "we" did it ourselves, we would have a never ending source of pride in our accomplishments.

EDITORIAL NOTES

York county is unique in many ways, and is apparently determined to retain these distinctions. Among them is that of having the only county police force in the province. During its recent session, the council voted to retain the police force.

Now that Newmarket is a Yonge St. town as a result of the annexation of 200 acres of land between the western boundary of town and Yonge St., there is no longer any reason to delay the erection of suitable sign boards advertising the town to the Yonge St. drivers.

We have not any advance knowledge on the mill rate of district municipalities, but we are willing to wager none of them will show an appreciable decline. It is too much to ask that taxes remain stationary, or decline, while all other costs are increasing. Most of the municipal costs rise and fall in relation to salaries or wages, either directly, or as part of the costs of the purchases for municipal needs. As long as wages continue to rise, taxes are likely to rise.

The assessment roll of the united townships of Tiny and Tiv in Simcoe county for 1961 includes in the 162 names listed, those of eight constables. Nowadays, one policeman per 1,000 residents is the standard. It doesn't say much for the "good old days".

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Slim Bliggins poked his head out of his piano box mansion last Thursday. The groundhog also poked his head out from his home in the ground. Both saw their shadows and turned around and went back inside.

For the groundhog, spring was not due for another six weeks or so. For Slim Bliggins it was too cold to be out and around without his long underwear on.

Slim opened his big trunk and pulled out a long set of old army issue longies and put them on. For any other civilian, they would be too much to stand; they are the kind that were made out of wool and some pieces of wood fibre. Most soldiers wore them only once. They gave one a fiery itch and if you walked too hurriedly in them for a long period, they would erase the previous summer's tan off you.

Since it was groundhog day (there is some other name for it, I don't know; ask Golden Glow, she knows), Slim Bliggins was taking out his faithful old hound dog, Christabelle, to the veterinarian's for her spring check-up. The moon was either waning or waxing, one or the other significant times when you can operate on animals, so Slim was going to have Christabelle's toenails cut.

"And how is my favorite patient today," asked the doc. "Owerrr!" moaned Christabelle.

"Her liver has been acting up again, doc," said Slim. "I gave some Dr. George's extract. But I think that it is something to do with groundhog day. She's part groundhog, you know. One of her great grandmothers was third of a cousin to a grandhog."

"You really don't say!" said the doc. He went over her chest and stomach with his stethoscope. "Hmmm," the doc said, "probably saw her shadow and some wild groundhog instinct of the remote past has upset her."

"Urrp," said Christabelle. "Yes, it's an interesting study in heradaterry," said Slim. "Say, doc, I got an idea. Let's set up a floodlight lamp and fling her shadow on the wall. Maybe she will forecast the weather to us."

So Slim and the doc set up a scientific experiment that should make groundhog-day-history.

"This may be written up as a case history on ginetics in the animal psychology journals," said Slim, while silently thinking of a wide publicity scheme.

Slim and the doc set up the lamp and Christabelle's profile was cast upon the wall of the doc's office. All she did was howl.

"Turn it off, we've got interference on the reception," shouted Slim.

"Evidently it has some effect," the doc pondered. "Maybe she is just hungry though. I shall go and get some meat for her."

But Christabelle turned up her nose at the meat. The doc tried liver, bacon, bread and milk and Christabelle still turned up her nose. Finally the doc offered her vegetables, ice cream and finally strawberries. He was successful then. She ate them all.

"Obviously she has some sort of craving for a specific food," the doc concluded. "Do you mind if I give her a private examination in my examining room?"

"Sure," said Slim.

The doc emerged later with a satisfied smile on his face. "Christabelle," he announced, "is going to have a family."

Slim fainted. When he came to he made a fine deduction. "Well, doc, groundhog or no groundhog, I guess spring is really about here."

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We had our first annual cold snap and the other things which go hand in hand with this yearly occurrence: frozen pipes, stalled cars, blocked roads, frostbites, broken arms from cranking and other things too numerous to mention.

Of course, some of these hardships and difficulties are merely the results of having left undone what should have been done. Nothing is more difficult than imagining what the weather will be like. The firmest and most sincere winter resolutions have a way of melting with the snow and nothing fades as fast as the memory of a blizzard.

It would be interesting to find figures to see how much lost time and futile effort goes into a cold snap and what the actual material loss is.

But is it all our fault? Everytime we see a farmer pulling a wagon load of feed from the mill and sitting on his open tractor in the middle of the winter, we get the feeling that somewhere along the line we were sold a bill of goods that suited somebody better than it suited the farmer sitting on the tractor. That is the same tractor that's sold in the southern states, or in Alberta, or in the tropics. We are told that it is to this efficient mass production that we owe the privilege of buying our implements as cheaply and inexpensively as we do. However we also have the sneaking suspicion that maybe the person who designed the tractor never drove one of them in the winter time.

Much of the same is true for cars. No allowance is made in their design for the fact that they may be used 2,000 miles south or 3,000 miles north of the plant. Is the only difference between houses in Mexico and houses in northern Manitoba that we keep windows open in one and closed in the other place? We rather doubt it. There is also a difference in material, layout, insulation and design.

The same reasoning doesn't seem to hold true in making tractors and cars. Even our own Canadian cars, manufactured under a protective tariff and artificially higher than in the south, are slavish imitation of cars made for California. Are the batteries stronger? Are they better weatherproofed? Will the windows be easier to keep from frosting over? Not at all. They are just the same. And the tractors? Are they better equipped for winter operation?

We suppose it should be all written down to the gullibility of the consumers. We are sold and we are sold good and well. We ride those tractors in 20 below and 100 in the shade. We freeze in fall plowing and shiver in spring cultivation. We fight the cold frozen meters in the winter and we scorch ourselves in the heat of the summer.

Some might argue that farming is an uncomfortable occupation and some might go far enough to say that farmers like it that way. We rather feel that all this is just a sign that we are a small nation and as far as the great industrial power to the south of us is concerned, just a colony where they can sell anything.

And when people talk of distinctive flags and Canadian literature and Canadian painting, we always feel like adding this "and for heaven's sake, a Canadian built, designed and equipped car and a tractor suitable in this climate."

And just so that the editor of this paper won't be flooded with folders extolling the merits of tractor covers, antifreeze, tanks and other equipment that can be purchased, may we add "a Canadian tractor at standard price and not loaded with extras." It is time that some of the implement people and car manufacturers as well gave us farmers something in return for the protection they are enjoying. We feel that we are paying for that proud inscription we all like to read "Made in Canada". We are looking to the day when this will mean designed in Canada, to suit Canadian conditions.

When the Sioux, en route home from Korean duty, stopped at Honolulu, Hawaiian dancing girls gave the Canadian destroyer's crew an island welcome complete with leis and dances. This dancer, to the envy of the crew, pays attention to the ship's mascot. AURORA HYDRO

The editor, Newmarket Era and Express: I was quite surprised to read in February 1 issue of the Aurora Banner several references to the manner in which the Aurora hydro commission is operating and I take exception to Banner editor's remarks, "A room that hasn't had its windows opened for three years must have gathered a lot of dust and become rather stale. Better get the windows opened and let some air and light in." He is not very well-informed—it is eight years instead of three.

As he should know, the question of having the press at commission meetings is a matter for each individual commission to decide for itself. After investigating the work being done by other commissions and forming our own conclusions, we decided that the best work was being done by the commissions that held private meetings. From the first commission that was in office to this date, we have held our meetings in private, the same as any other business organization. Now, for the first time in our eight years of service, our integrity is being questioned.

Who Pays the Piper or The Hydro Rumpus

The Aurora Hydro Commissioners have nothing to hide, in fact we are proud of what the commission has accomplished in its short eight years. When Mr. Wm. Large, a town employee on a part time basis with the hydro commission, decided to resign from the position of secretary of hydro, we handled his resignation in the following manner: a meeting was called on Wednesday, Jan. 10, to deal with the reasons for his resignation. All points were fully covered and at the end of two hours everybody was satisfied. Mr. Large was going to stay on as our secretary. The employees involved and the commissioners all smilingly shook hands.

Two days later, when I was in the office, I asked our secretary how everything was going. He said "Fine. Everything O.K." Then, on Tuesday morning, Jan. 10, Mayor Bell telephoned me and asked me to come down to the town office immediately. I arrived in a few minutes and was informed that the assistant clerk would not take hydro money. We held a meeting right then, and I, as chairman of the commission, said that he must be relieved of his duties as far as the hydro was concerned. Mayor Bell and I informed Mr. Large of this decision. After which he collected his two months' wages that council had previously granted him and left the office in short time.

First Members

In the year 1942, the late Mr. Babcock and myself were elected to this commission as its first members. A few months previously, the town council had engaged Mr. C. Copland as superintendent. As we had no office, we were invited by the town council to run our office along with theirs. The hydro auditor, at this time, drew up a schedule by which we would pay a percentage of all the expenses of the town office and we would have the service of the assistant town clerk. We are paying the town on the following basis: building expenses, 30 percent, $52.80; light, 30 percent, $10.35; telephone, 30 percent, $15.82; clerk, 24 percent, $732; assistant clerk, 45 percent, $1,237.50; janitor, 15 percent, $249.56; town auditor, 30 percent, $225; total, $2,523.03.

You will see it is costing us over $2,500 per year.

Regarding the actual work of the Aurora commission, I might say that we started with an old run-down system, which was in such bad condition that when Ontario hydro workmen had to do any repairs at our substation, the main power switch had to be pulled. The condition of the transformers, wires, etc., were poor—

Another thing, ever since the commission has been in operation, the members (with the exception of the mayor), have been elected by acclamation.

Now that I have given the facts regarding our commission, I make the following statement:

If the citizens of Aurora, as the editor of the Banner intimates, are not satisfied with the way the commission is being handled, my resignation is available at a moment's notice.

This is a statement of facts and not a desire for publicity or controversial letters in the Banner.

George W. Baldwin,
Chairman of the Aurora Hydro Commission.

IS IT THE BEST?

The editor: For some time I have been waiting an opportunity (i.e., the precious unoccupied rural hour) to send along a thought or two engendered by your editorial remarks concerning "Pushing Butter Sales". For the benefit of the reader, perhaps I should quote: "The dairy farmers of Ontario are asking for provincial aid in the development of an all-dairy product butter substitute. The new product, upon which the Ontario Agricultural College has been experimenting for the past several months, would sell for about half the price of butter. With margarine selling about 37 to 39 cents, this means that the new product would undercut the margarine price."

Before I would be ready to support the above rather exciting "offensive-defensive" move, I would want assurance at the top level—preferably from the Canadian Federation of Agriculture—that the aforesaid "all-dairy product butter substitute" won't eat into total sales of No. 1 creamery butter even to a greater extent than margarine is doing.

And one other point, Mr. Editor, occurs to me: I suggest it would be just ordinary prudence for the various provincial authorities to get around the same conference table for the purpose of hammering out as national a policy as may be possible on this "Battle of the Spreads". If the "all-dairy" substitute is good enough for Ontario, how about its reception in Quebec and P.E.I.? Maybe it would be wiser to concentrate upon "Pushing Butter Sales" and rely upon the potentialities of the tariff mechanism (page the C.M.A.) to bring valuations on vegetable oil imports to appropriate levels.

"Indusco".

Officers Installed

Installation of officers of King Legion Branch and the Ladies' Auxiliary was performed on Jan. 29, in McDonald and Wells hall by Jack Brooks, president of post 66, Willowdale, who was assisted by his vice president, George Stephenson. A good attendance was noted considering the bad weather.

Donald Findlay was installed president of the branch for a second term. Others are: Bob Walker, vice president; Bert Phelps, Vaughan, second vice pres.; Arthur Fleet, treasurer; A. L. Campbell, secretary; Harry Cunningham, Jack Walker and E. P. McQuarrie, executive committee; Russell Shipley of Kettleby, sergeant-at-arms. Rev. D. C. H. Mitchell is the padre. Mrs. Beryl Fleet was installed as president of the auxiliary for a second time. Mrs. W. Wood was installed vice president, Mrs. Hazel Campbell, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Clare Walker, Mrs. Mona Walker and Mrs. Jean Wood, executive, and Mrs. Hilda Judd, standard bearer. Presidents Findlay and Fleet spoke briefly and refreshments were served by the ladies during a social hour which followed ceremonies.

L. A. Bingos Well Patronized

Seventy players patronized a bingo in King Masonic hall, Jan. 31, held under the auspices of King Legion Auxiliary. Attendance at these regular events is steadily increasing. Fifteen games are played and very substantial prizes given with the addition of three or more special prizes. All prizes are purchased by the ladies. Mrs. George Scott, a new King resident, won a valuable woven bedspread of combined natural and maroon coloring. Mrs. Harry Edwards won the picnic basket of groceries and a third person took the rear-view car mirror. Several were present from outside points, as far north as Newmarket. A special St. Valentine Bingo will be held on February 14.

Mr. James Patton was joined by his family last week when he observed his 80th birthday. He received a number of cards of congratulation in addition to gifts.

Mrs. Gordon Patton and daughter of Toronto spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. James Patton, her parents-in-law.

Mrs. Alex Campbell has been quite ill from measles, confined to her home for more than a week. Her mother, Mrs. Morrison of London, with the aid of Mr. Campbell, has been attending her and caring for the children. Mrs. Campbell was unable to attend the installation of Legion Auxiliary officers last week, and was substituted for by another member of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Howard Neil of Eversley spent the weekend with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. M. R. Jenkinson, Mrs. H. G. Ratcliff and Mrs. L. I. Scott attended the annual meeting of Toronto Centre North W.M.S. presbyterial in Toronto last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hatley and daughter Carol spent the weekend at Guelph and Kitchener. They motored to Guelph on Friday evening, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Andy Crawford at the O.A.C., Guelph, going on to Kitchener to visit Mr. Howie Bender who was a petty officer with the navy in charge of patients at Eaton Hall during the time it was given over to the navy for convalescent patients during the last war.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at York County hospital. His weight was 8 lbs. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Uniforms for Wrestling Club

Members of King City Wrestling club have been outfitted with full length royal blue fleece-lined practice tights. With the health of students the first concern of coach Bob McLeod, the uniforms will prevent colds and mat burns.

Tudor Period Music

The famed Tallis Choir, Toronto, will visit All Saints Anglican church Wednesday evening, Feb. 21. After Evensong, the choir will give a recital of Liturgical music motets, which should arouse the interest of all music lovers in the neighborhood.

These enthusiastic singers, conducted by John Cozens, have been animated by a desire to create an interest in the wonderful heritage of vocal music handed down from Tudor times, much of which has only been rediscovered in the past 30 years. A hearty invitation is extended to all those who are fond of choral music to attend.

The opening night of the King Youth for Christ will be held on Monday, Feb. 12, in McDonald and Wells hall, at 8 p.m. Rev. Norman Rowan of Markham will speak. A choir from Stouffville will give songs, with solos and duets. Don Ratcliff, Stouffville, will conduct sound films, one based on educational subjects, and one an inspirational religious film. A quiz program will be featured. Everyone is invited to attend.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. Farren on Feb. 14 in the afternoon.

Attending the annual meeting of Toronto Presbyterial West, held in Wychwood Presbyterian church, Feb. 1 and 2, were Miss Jessie Gellatly, Miss Alice Ferguson, Mrs. R. Farren and Mrs. Fred Curtis. Mrs. T. L. Williams prepared the devotional program for the first day. She also gave a summary report from districts 1, 2 and 3 comprising the presbyterial. Mrs. Williams is co-vice president of section 3, with Mrs. C. H. Bowman of Maple. She was named a member of the presbyterial nominating committee for the coming year.

The Right Rev. A. R. Beverley, Bishop of Toronto will administer the sacrament of Confirmation to 16 candidates at All Saints Anglican church on Sunday evening, Feb. 25. After the service a reception will be held in the parish room to enable the congregation to meet the bishop. The leather craft group of Kingcrafts Guild will meet at the home of Miss Jessie Gellatly on Thursday, Feb. 15, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. B. L. Staver, Aurora, will give instruction.

Blue Cross hospitalization fees through King Women's Institute are due by February 14. They should be paid to Mrs. George Brown, assistant to the local W.I. chairman for Blue Cross.

The United church charge of King, Laskay and Teston has completed a successful year. Rev. M. R. Jenkinson officiated at nine weddings, 20 baptisms and conducted eight funerals. There are 274 resident members and 41 non-resident members in the charge. King has 103 resident members and 65 families; Laskay 85 and 51; and Teston 81 and 51. An increase of 47 resident members and 24 families since 1947 was reported to congregational meetings. The total number of persons under the care of the United church is 615.

King W.A., organized at the beginning of the year, has 27 paid members. Its total receipts were $412.70. The Baby Band at Teston had an exceptionally good year with 21 members, and $20 being raised by mile box offerings. Total monies raised by the three churches for missionary and maintenance work was $900. Including teachers and officers there are 200 children registered in the three Sunday-schools, with total receipts of $751.

The Women's Missionary Societies of King and Laskay raised $320. The Woman's Associations raised $952.

Teston Fellowship group organized last January raised $121. Total charge giving for the churches' local work was $3,714. The total receipts from all departments of King, Laskay and Teston were $7,097. This figure does not represent balances carried over from 1949. In addition to the general work of the charge, $173 was raised for the Manitoba Relief Fund and a special offering of $25 was realized to help students studying for the ministry of the United church across Canada.

CARD OF THANKS The family of the late Charlotte Elizabeth Stuart wish to express their deep and sincere appreciation to their many friends and relatives for their kind expressions of sympathy and floral tributes extended to them in their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a dear and loving mother. Sadly missed by son Walter. *c1w6

CARD OF THANKS

A basket of 50 red carnations was presented at a happy family gathering to celebrate the anniversary of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Norris, Beaverton. Mrs. Norris wore black French velvet with corsage of talisman roses. The celebration was held in the hall of the United Church, Wednesday, Jan. 24, at 4 p.m. The tables were beautifully decorated with bowls of garden daffodils and set with crystal and gold.

During the arrival of the guests, Miss Ella Latimer, cousin of the bride, played soft music. The ladies of the Women's Missionary Society, of which Mrs. Norris is a life member, served a delightful dinner for which a vote of thanks was graciously responded to by the president, Mrs. J. A. Hawlin.

While the wedding cake was being cut Mrs. Aubrey DeGuerre sang "Where'er You Walk" and "I Love You Truly".

A toast to the couple was proposed by Rev. S. B. Profit. Following the groom's response, speeches of congratulations were given by friends and members of the family. Mr. S. Park, winner of the old-time fiddler's competition, C.N.E., accompanied by Miss Beatrice Butcher, entertained with old-time music.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris received many beautiful gifts, also telegrams, phone calls, letters and cards of congratulation, including a certificate of congratulation from the provincial government.

In the evening they were at home to their many friends.

Mrs. John Wilton, niece of the groom, wearing a tan crepe with corsage of Johanna hill roses, poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Robt. J. Norris, Mrs. John Douglas, Mrs. Wm. Park and four members of Mrs. Norris' Sunday school class.

During the evening, the teachers and officers of the Sunday school presented Mrs. Norris with six beautiful gold-trimmed cups and saucers, in appreciation of her work in the Sunday school.

Guests were present from Toronto, Orillia, Scarboro, Newmarket, Nestleton, Sutton and surrounding district.

13 Classes In Ten Rooms In Six-Room School Board Supports Area Plan

Thirteen classes occupying ten rooms in a six-room school is the trouble of the trustees of the trustee board of Union S. S. 1, King and Whitechurch, it was revealed at a meeting of the board. A registration of at least 475 students by September, 1951, was forecast.

An enrolment of 392 children composing the union section and S. S. 13, Whitechurch, is accommodated by splitting classrooms and using a hallway and basement, staggering 150 of grades one and two in occupying three classrooms with 75 pupils in the morning and 75 in the afternoon on a double shift basis.

Nothing short of a new six-room school for S. S. 13 pupils would seem adequate, trustees declared Tuesday night. A survey, now out-dated, showed 25 would leave grade 8 by June, 1951, while 100 new students would be enrolled by September. An increase of 50 in September, 1950, was allowed; instead the figure stood at 165. "We suspended a resolution that children of the union section go on full days after January 1 this year. We found that otherwise, 75 children of S. S. 13 Whitechurch would be out in the cold," trustee Horace Brown declared.

"We have leaned over backward to help the lake section which in turn has fully co-operated to meet a very difficult problem." It was felt the proportion of legislative grant to each section is fair.

Both sections have lost a great deal of assessment. S. S. 13 took over $237,000 of the total assessment which helps to pay the non-resident fee to Oak Ridges. It receives 50 to 60 percent of the legislative grant paid to the Union section. Operating costs all along the line are mounting. Overcrowding and finances both present a situation which only the formation of school areas in King and Whitechurch townships could solve, a matter for the township councils of these municipalities to deal with, the board declared.

Stress was made on the strain to the teaching staff with the operation of staggered classes. Their co-operation cannot be overestimated. Pupils, too, are inconvenienced in like measure, the board felt.

Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie, Toronto, have been engaged by Oak Ridges school board to augment the teaching staff to 11, their term to extend to the end of the present school term.

Mr. MacKenzie, who is assisting principal John Martin, has taken over teaching duties in grade 8. His wife is teaching a junior grade established in the basement of the main building, the interior of which has been renovated with fresh paint in cream and regulation green. The arrangement of the 'basement' room has been made to partially relieve acute overcrowding in other classrooms. Mr. G. O. T. Gamble did the renovating.

The presence of Mrs. P. A. McClelland, president of York Home and School council, as guest speaker to Oak Ridges Association on February 12, is being gladly anticipated at Oak Ridges school. A large attendance is urged. The occasion is Founders' Night. Mrs. Bob Woolley, local president, is convening the program which will constitute special musical entertainment.

At a division council of Guides and commissioners of York county, held at Richvale, a date was set for the annual cookie day project undertaken by Guides and Brownies. March 10 was established for training session of all Guides of the division to be held at Scarboro. It will be conducted by division trainers of Toronto. Miss Peggy Eshlin will direct Guide companies. Sessions for Guide leaders, Brownie leaders and camp training instruction will form sections of the training classes. Mrs. H. R. Howden, Toronto, area commissioner, will be in charge of the auxiliary training.

Committees were also set up for the annual Guide rally on June 9. The location of the rally will be set at a later date. Mrs. John MacNeil, district commissioner of Thornhill, was named chairman of the committee in charge. A possible 480 Guides are eligible to participate in the colorful event which embraces a field day and sports, closing with a huge camp fire.

CONCERT CANCELLED

The concert by the children of the Newmarket public schools which was to be held in the town hall tomorrow evening, Feb. 9, has been cancelled because of an outbreak of mumps in the schools.

FLEES AFTER HAMMER

police. The fact that he knew where the hammer was raises a question in the minds of the police.

Mrs. Wolfe said that she and Ward were to have gone to Toronto on Tuesday to look at a house they intended to buy. Mrs. Wolfe has lived a quiet life with her daughter the last eight years since her husband's death. She met Ward last winter when she was living in Toronto for several months. "He was very good to us when we were in Toronto," she said. She was deeply shocked at the attempted assault. "Something seemed to make him go almost out of his mind," she said.

Mrs. Wolfe and her daughter did not know until the next morning that Ward was dead. Blonde, intelligent Rose Marie told her mother after the assault that she should tell the police she would lay a charge.

"But he was good to us," the mother said.

"But he didn't care anything about your life," the child replied.

Police have not been able to locate any of Ward's relatives. He had a room in Toronto but his landlords did not know where he worked. They said he had a sister in Scotland but that he never had visitors at his home. No funeral arrangements had been made up to this morning.

minimum lot a half-acre, with 100 ft. frontage. Houses built on the lots must have at least 1,000 sq. ft. floor space if one-storey, 900 sq. ft. ground storey space if more than one storey.

It was contended by councillor Robert Gundy that homes of comparable value were assured for Kennedy St. by placing a limit on floor space, rather than actual value.

Aurora Merchants Take Up Residence In Celler

The Merchants of the Aurora Town league have apparently assumed a full time lease on the league basement.

Over the past week they were dumped twice to slide further down the ladder.

First trimming was from Collis last Thursday. The Merchants, without the services of several regulars, were polished off by the Tanners 15-2. The Merchies came along without a net minder, and league prexy Cliff Chapman stepped into the breach—a first time for him by the way—but before the evening was out, suffered from red light burn.

Lorne Fleury was a busy visitor around Cliff Chapman's twine-coop to pop in four. Walt Davis three, Stan Kerr, Bill Kirbyson and Art White with two each were the other too frequent visitors. Ray White and John O'Mahoney completed the Collis show of scoring power. "Lefty" Phillips and Francis Cook kept the Tanners from making it a skunking.

The Merchants clambored over the boards Monday to give the Ditch Diggers a battle before conceding an 8-7 defeat. There was no holding Mickey Sutton, pivot-man with the Diggers, as he exploded for four goals. Bob Knight, John Skasko, Roy Allen and Harold Stephenson sniped for singles.

"Lefty" Phillips, who gets his quota of goals per game, was the store-men's number one, popping in three. Ernie Summers boosted his scoring mark with a pair. Luke Holman and Normie Egan blasted in one apiece.

Landing Takes Sharon On Victory March

What! You say you never heard of the Holland Landing Night Hawks? High time you did, says Eldon Goodwin. They're new to hockey maybe, but not to winning. They have won three and lost one in the newly organized East Gwillimbury public school hockey league.

Monday the Night Hawks defeated Sharon 3-0. It was another shut-out performance for the Landing's sensational little goalie, Billie Cook. Earl Kearns waited only three minutes after the drop of the biscuit to give the Night Hawks the lead. Then the Landing's smallest atom, Harold Foster, bulged the twine in the second from a goal-mouth scramble. In the third Gordie Sweet polished off a lone effort to boost the count to 3-0.

Holland Landing Night Hawks are managed by principal Lorne Palmateer and Ken "Speedy" Harman looks after the coaching. The Night Hawks do battle again Monday, Feb. 12, and hockey practice "club members" February 15.

MAYOR OF TORONTO OFFER FACILITIES TO MAYORS, REEVES

Mayor Hiram McCullum, Toronto, writing in the interests of better relations between the municipalities of Ontario and the city of Toronto, extended this week to Aurora, Newmarket and other district councils, an invitation to Ontario mayors and reeves to make full use of the city facilities when they are in the city. Toronto is ready to book hotel accommodations, provide secretarial services and municipal advice, according to the mayor.

In Aurora, at least, the kind thoughts about the city which the mayor's letter had encouraged were somewhat dampened for other members of council when it was pointed out that the invitation was directed to mayors and reeves only and apparently did not include the rank and file.

Farm Machinery Course In Newmarket Feb. 12, 13

With the rapid increase of power equipment on our farms today, farmers in York will be interested to learn that a special Farm Power and Machinery Course has been arranged for Monday and Tuesday afternoons, Feb. 12 and 13, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the department of agriculture, Newmarket.

Instructors from the Agricultural Engineering Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, will discuss such important topics as tractor maintenance, machinery adjustment, winer operation, etc. Included in the afternoon's program will be specially selected films pertaining to these topics.

This will be an excellent chance to gain some valuable information. Expensive machinery demands proper care in order that maximum life and best results are obtained from investment and no one can afford to be without the most up-to-date information available.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We, the members of the Keswick Girls' Hockey team, wish to make a public apology to the Aurora girls for our part in the display of poor sportsmanship on Monday night at the Keswick arena.

Snowbound Juniors Stranded At Stayner

Even the weather is conspiring against the Newmarket Rockets. Wednesday evening, they headed out for Collingwood to tackle the Greenhairs. Fione messagess received Wednesday evening and Thursday morning indicated they reached Stay-ner but couldn't make Collingwood because the roads were blocked.

They hadn't returned at 11 a.m. Wednesday morning. The team was travelling by cars. Two of drivers mentioned were John Hines and Frank Johnston.

Schomberg Wins 8-2 Kettley Ties Nobleton

Schomberg galloped to an 8-2 win over Kleinburg in the Friday action in the King-Vaughan league. In the other half of the twin bill, Bill Muirhead's Kettley side scored a moral victory, if nothing else, as they battled the group leaders, Nobleton, to a five all draw in an exciting exchange.

"Army" Kerry was the Schomberg ace. Elgin Hastings' new recruit made his presence felt along the scoring row with three. Ed Mienick and Henry Hollingshead shared the runner-up spot for Schomberg with two apiece. Doug Marchant scored the other Schomberg counter.

In the Nobleton-Kettley clash Bill Attridge, who doubles as pivot man and playing coach, scored twice. Noel Ash, patrolling the left boards, picked up a goal as did John Wist and Jim Patton to keep Kettley on the go and on even terms with Nobleton.

The Schomberg "pick-up" of two points against one gained by Nobleton enabled the Bergers to slice a point from the league leaders' edge. Kettley kept its third place roost.

Aurora Cubs Keep It Up, Take Millbrook 9-1

"The Surprise Packet in North York hockey", Andy Closs' Aurora D Cubs continued to mow down the opposition last week in their Junior D group. Thursday, Millbrook at Aurora felt the sting of the Cubs' scoring voltage and escaped only after absorbing a 9-1 drubbing.

Closs' lads dominated the show. They came out of round one 3-1 leaders. Fred Southwood lost his shutout at 19:20 when Hutchinson, best of the visitors, whistled a low shot past him. Aurora added more authority to their scoring with a three-goal second and equal quantity in the final without so much as a reply from the Brooks.

Bobbs Cooks shooting well and skating fast blazed a hot course across the tally sheet with three. Cookie had to stick to his knitting to keep one jump ahead of his mates. Chris, Wansborough and Don Clayton with two goals, Don Munshaw and Grant Winters had single counters. Aurora: J. F. Southwood; D. C. Wansborough, L. Waller; C. A. Closs Jr., W. D. Munshaw, W. Fines; alls., W. McFale, A. Barber, D. Clayton, B. Cook, G. Warlow, G. Winters, G. Boyle.

BOILER EXPLODES

An estimated $1,000 damage was done at Cecil Taylor's garage last Thursday night when a steam boiler blew up. A small partition was blown out and a window broken.

No one was in the building. "Constable James Leodor usually washes his car there on Thursday night," Mr. Taylor said. It is fortunate that last week he was not in the building.

Sweet), Milton, Dora (Mrs. Chas. Dodson), Stouffville, and Bertha, Orillia.

Rev. A. E. Petersen conducted the funeral service held at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose on January 31. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery. Pallbearers were grandsons, George Zogalo, Frank Moore, Harold Moore, Ivan Burke, Orville Thompson and William Smith.

MY DOG TIM

I have a dog, his name is Tim, And am I ever fond of him! And when he barks and wanting in, I wouldn't think to ignore him. My chums say I am a silly "gink" But they're just jealous, don't you think? Because they haven't got a Tim. But mind you, I am hanging onto him!

He's always there, right by his post When dogs like Tim are needed most. But if you lay your hand on him He might just tear you limb from limb. But fellows, now take my advice, Be kind to Tim and you'll find him nice. And you'll always have a friend in him. For he's my dog and his name is Tim.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Ingile Colville

DILEMMA

I find I cannot write about
Well—anything at all!
My brain is frozen without doubt
With fear, I scuttle round about,
For it, I cannot do without.

It's not much, but it's all that I
—At least that I recall—
Have, to ask friends who may be nigh

If they can round about them spy
A pair of gloves, a scarf to tie Around my shivering throat, as when

I face the bitter blast again.

I think my brain began to freeze
—At least it may be so—
When I began to sniff and sneeze
And shiver in the biting breeze
That took my breath and made my knees

Just waver to and fro.
A frozen brain is not, alas,
A thing you may depend on.
I step on cats—nor see them pass.
There might be one or come en masse
Then sit around as in a class
And wonder what is going on!

On windows there are frosted palms

—Most beautiful, I grant you—
But branches jump like frisking lambs;

My brain with frost, cold tighter cramps;
Spring breezes be my only balms
If ever they come through!

Should temperatures arise again
—This is the hope I cherish—
Then I will take my trusty pen
And write as in the past day
when

My brain, alert, saw cats and men
While now I nearly perish.

This frozen world is for the young
—I hope that they enjoy it—
For now when winter's hand's outflung
I wish I'd ne'er its praises sung,
But a funeral song had rung
For what it leaves behind it
These words go out from me to you Without my brain once showing through!

Roger Caldwell President Of Horticultural Society

Roger Caldwell was elected president of the Newmarket Horticultural society at its annual meeting in Trinity United church on Tuesday, Jan. 30. Despite the weather, there were over 80 present. A. A. Reinke presided. The lucky door prize, a house plant, was won by Mrs. Campbell, Toronto.

H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of the Newmarket public schools, thanked the society for the very successful juvenile program which it had carried out last year under the chairmanship of Mrs. Anton Czernick. In the reports of the society's activities presented by the secretary, Don Cummings, it was shown that the society had had a highly successful year.

Mrs. Jane Copeland, the guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. John Kudelka, program chairman. Mrs. Elgin Evans moved the vote of thanks. Mrs. Copeland spoke on the culture of the African violet. Her information covered the violet from its origin in Africa to the present day species.

Following her witty and interesting talk a discussion period was held during which many members had an opportunity to question this expert on difficulties in growing this popular house plant.

The following officers and directors were elected: pres., A. A. Reinke; pres., Roger Caldwell; first vice-pres., Don Cummings; second vice-pres., Herbert Atkins; sec., Mrs. Eugene McCaffrey; treas., Wilfred Tucker; directors for two years, Mrs. H. M. Ion, Mrs. H. D. Cummings, Mrs. John Kudelka, Wilfred Oliver and Ernest Winter; directors for one year, Mrs. B. Hendricks, Ross Squires, Mrs. Anton Czernick and Wilnot Hill; auditors, D. J. Stephenson, E. E. Willis.

Committee chairmen, publicity and bulletin, Mrs. H. M. Ion; purchasing, Wilfred Oliver; social, Mrs. H. D. Cummings; membership, Ernest Winter; juvenile, Mrs. Anton Czernick; elvise improvement, Wilnot Hill; program, Mrs. John Kudelka; show, Howard Proctor and Howard Hugo; exhibition, Eugene McCaffrey; garden consultants, Mrs. Charles Hartman and Howard Hugo; budget, Wilfred Tucker.

'PERFECT LOVE' PRAYER DAY THEME

The theme of the World Day of Prayer service is "Perfect Love Casteth Out Fear". As usual, the service will be held on the first Friday in Lent, February 9. In Newmarket, women from all denominations will gather tomorrow in worship at the Free Methodist church.

The service was prepared by the Christian women of Germany and the Central Day of Prayer committee of New York. It was adapted for use in this country by a committee of the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Women will give leadership in the service from Trinity United church, the Church of the Nazarenes, Christian Baptist church, St. Paul's Anglican church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Friends Meeting, Gospel Tabernacle, Salvation Army and Free Methodist church.

Mrs. R. Beckett will conduct the service with Rev. F. A. Daw welcoming those in attendance. The address will be by Mrs. Lieut. R. Henderson. Guest soloist will be Mrs. Leonard Little.

BISHOP BEVERLEY AT ST. PAUL'S FEB. 11

Yesterday being Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, there was Holy Communion at 10.30 a.m., and Lenten service at 7.30 in the evening. Next week and during the rest of the Lenten season, the service will be held every Thursday evening at 7.30. The rector hopes for a good attendance, seeing that the unsettled condition of the world calls for more earnest prayer on the part of all Christian people. He extends the invitation to members of other congregations to attend the services as well as our own church members. The Lenten services will be held in the church.

Next Sunday, the first Sunday in Lent, guest preacher is The Rev. N. I. Joseph of the Diocese of Kerala, South India, at the morning service and in the evening, Bishop Beverley is holding a confirmation service at 7 p.m. followed by a reception in the Parish hall to which the congregation is invited.

Tomorrow is Women's World Day of Prayer, held this year in the Free Methodist church on Millard Ave. opposite Niagara St. at 3 p.m.

Today the Afternoon branch of the Women's Auxiliary is holding its monthly devotional and business meeting in the Parish hall; while the Evening branch held its regular Dorcas meeting last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. B. Budd, Church St. Also on Monday, the Ladies' Aid held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. G. MacInnis, 4 Water St. while the Parochial Guild held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Lockhart, Prospect Ave.

On Sunday, Feb. 18, at 11 a.m. Rev. M. Wilkinson, associate secretary of the G.B.R.E., will give an address; while on Feb. 25, also at 11 a.m., a welcome visitor to the service will be Canon J. MacDonal.

The flowers in church were in loving memory of Jack Revill, who fell in war No. 2 in Italy, placed there by his parents.

ELECT OFFICERS
At the meeting of the Trinity Young People's Union the following officers were elected: hon. pres., Rev. H. Cotton; pres., Jean Lewis; vice pres., Donald Cook; sec., Margaret Armstrong; treas., Taylor Gilbert; representative to official board, Douglas Hutchings. Allan Jackson conducted the devotional exercises and Rev. H. Cotton presided. Rev. J. A. Millar was the guest speaker of the evening.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Canada's seventh annual National Health Week, February 4 to 10, seems an appropriate time for us to evaluate the eating habits of our families as well as our own. So much in the family's health depends on the mother's efforts to provide balanced meals that it is a subject which warrants consideration throughout the year.

It is not only a question of care in cooking and imagination in serving to tempt appetites. The feeding of the family requires a knowledge of the nutritional needs of people.

Someone will say, "but I'm not a dietitian. How am I supposed to know the amount of food nutrients that my family needs to maintain personal health?" In Canada's "Food Rules" we have a dietary standard which removes such doubts. Published by the nutrition division of the dominion health and welfare department these rules are intended as a "nutritional floor". They indicate the minimum standard without any non-essentials or luxuries. They should be kept in every Canadian kitchen for ready reference until their contents are as familiar as the family's favorite recipe.

Food Rules
Milk, children (up to 12 years) should drink at least one pint a day. Adolescents need at least one and a half pints a day and adults at least one-half pint.

Fruit, one serving of citrus fruit or tomatoes daily, or their juices; and one serving of other fruit.

Vegetables, at least one serving of potatoes and at least two servings of other vegetables, preferably leafy, green or yellow, and frequently raw.

Cereals and bread, one serving of whole grain cereal and at least four slices of bread, with butter or fortified margarine.

Meat and fish, one serving of meat, fish, poultry or meat alternates, such as dried beans, eggs or cheese. Use liver frequently. Eggs and cheese at least three times a week each.

Vitamin D, at least 400 International units daily for all growing persons and expectant and nursing mothers.

The health department points out that the nutritional care of the mother during pregnancy and during lactation is the most important single influence on the health of the population at large.

During such periods a woman requires more protein, calcium and iron. The amount of calcium required in 24 hours for both mother and baby is contained in one quart of milk.

Nutritional experts class breakfast as the most important meal of the day. Given a good, hearty meal which includes a hot cereal, preferably a whole grain one, youngsters and adults start the day with a real zest for living. These chilly mornings invite a meal based on the serving of a citrus fruit or juice, the hot cereal and a protein food such as eggs. Coffee (or if you prefer, tea) should provide the finishing touches and not comprise the entire meal as it does for many women. In their rush to get children off to school and husband to work they neglect to have a sound meal themselves.

During health week let's take stock of our family's food habits. Perhaps they would rate 100 percent... perhaps we have been serving too many rich desserts and neglecting that important start for a good day—a balanced breakfast.

Mrs. Ross Stiles, president of Belhaven branch, was chairman for the program which they presented. Two juniors delighted with musical numbers, Miss Rita Jacobs a vocal solo, Miss Cynthia McGee an instrumental. Mrs. Harry Horner told an interesting story of a pioneer settler in the Talbot district near Fingal. A humorous playlet "The Anti-Gossip Club" was given by a group of the Willow Beach ladies.

In her talk Mrs. Armstrong stressed the need of kindness, tolerance, and helpfulness in our dealings with others and pointed out what a tremendous power the Institute could be if all members prayed sincerely and earnestly for good fellowship and peace. She took us, in imagination, on the trip to Copenhagen, Denmark, which the five Institute ladies took last August to the A.C.W.W. meeting. Mrs. Sinclair spoke briefly of her pleasure in revisiting the various branches and reminded us of the district service "Foods that Healthy Children Like" to be held at Pefferlaw on Feb. 22. As many as possible are urged to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newmarket branch will be held at the agricultural board room on Thursday, Feb. 15, at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. Frank Hodge and her group are in charge of the meeting.

The guest speaker will be Dr. W. A. Reddick, superintendent of the Ontario hospital, Aurora, who will address the meeting on mental diseases.

Members who have not handed in their holiday cards are requested to do so at this meeting. Light refreshments will be served. An invitation is extended to all ladies in the district to take this opportunity of hearing Dr. Reddick.

The Vandorf branch regular meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. A. VanNostrand on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 14. The topic is in charge of the Home Economics and Health committee when Dr. Margaret Arkinstall, Newmarket, will be the guest speaker. Current events are by Mrs. H. J. McCarron. Roll-call is to be answered with sing, say or pay. Hostesses are Miss Pearl Caley, Miss L. Carroll and Mrs. C. Paterson.

Members are reminded that their Blue Cross dues should be paid to Mrs. Walter Graham by the last week of February.

'FRIENDSHIP SCROLL' DISPLAYED FEB. 17

The "Scroll of Friendship" which was compiled by the Guides, Rangers and Brownies of all districts of England will be on display at the Scout Hall, Newmarket, on Saturday, Feb. 17, under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Guide company. Imps One Goal Behind In Juvenile Semi-Finals

Newmarket Imperial juveniles must overhaul a one goal lead if they want to remain in the O.M.H.A. playoffs. They dropped 2-1 decision to the Brampton "Lions" Tuesday. This was the first game in best home and home, goals to count, series. The return game will be played in Brampton Saturday.

Stan Pollard potted the lone Newmarket counter in the second frame. Stan broke from a center ice melee and with a Brampton defenseman draped over him coolly whipped the biscuit into the visitors' cage.

Brampton scores came in the first and third periods. Jack McDonald, visiting centerman doing the honors. The score was kept down chiefly by the work of Ken "Joe" Burke in the Imps' twinery. Joe made stop after stop that had goal written all over it.

Late Rally By Greys Costs Rockets Second Victory

Newmarket Rockets were knocked over the head Tuesday. They muffed a 10-9 decision to Owen Sound "Greys". For approximately 46 minutes, the Rockets appeared destined to gather up the points from win two of the season. They were 7-3 leaders.

Somebody forgot to point out a game goes 60 minutes. What happened from then on sent every local Newmarket supporter, there were few in evidence at the arena, shooting to the crying room. Owen Sound got skating like mad. The Rockets forgot to back check. The Sounders whipped in seven goals—against two the Rockets could manufacture over the rest of the route—and when the harassed scorekeeper finally looked up from his work the visitors had it 10-9.

Hardest worker for the Rockets was Keith "Keto" Collings with three goals and two assists. Murray McDonald checked in with a goal and an assist. Bob Shropshire, a new hand, Bob Veale, Bob Hanna, Archie For-

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

WITH the country-wide lamentations over the loss of Canada's "old fashioned" winters still ringing in our ears, I'm happy to note the frantic planning and actual construction of artificial ice rinks, now going on in several of our cities. Changing seasons, resulting in milder weather, have caused a major crisis for the game of hockey, due to the lack of natural ice. Facilities for practice and play have been generally limited, resulting in a serious drop in hockey interest, thereby endangering the game.

New Rinks the Answer

In many Eastern and Western cities, youngsters have turned their loyalties and energy elsewhere, with the result that basketball and other games have benefited.

Following the example set by several American cities, Toronto presently plans four artificial rinks, the first (Alexandra) due to open in two weeks. According to Alderman William Davidson, Chairman of the Park Board, the four rinks (each consisting of a skating surface and hockey-cushion) will cost nearly $100,000. Ultimately, the plans call for direct revenue from the users of the rinks, to enable the Toronto Parks Board to broaden their scope of operations. All in all, a worthy project—the most cheerful news in years for hockey lovers with an eye to the future.

Racing's Slot-Machine Bill

Currently, the United States Senate is deciding if the "Johnson Bill," calling for sweeping prohibitions against the transmission (across State lines) of any kind of racing news, will turn out to be a worthy proposal to help eliminate the syndicate bookmakers and their illegal betting. If the "Slot-Machine Bill" goes through, the repercussions will affect Canada simultaneously. According to Frank Armstrong, editor of the Daily Racing Form (Toronto), the Bill would strike a heavy blow to his publication and to the other racing media (radio, etc.) transmitting legitimate racing facts and figures. Mr. Armstrong states: "It is my opinion there is no syndicate bookmaking in Toronto. Anyway, where could a man bet a thousand dollars around here and be sure of a payoff?"

If the Bill becomes law, Canadian racing enthusiasts may have to drop all interest in American tracks, and even racing classics such as the

TOWN LEAGUE SEMIS

The semi-finals are scheduled to open Monday in the Town League. In the opening saw-off, Office Specialty and Davis Leather are matched. In the nightcap Hoffman clashes with the Town "Merchants". The semi-finals are a best two of three game series in both brackets.

Office Specialty and Hoffman actually tied for third place in the standing, reports president Chas. Vanzant, but because of the higher scoring feats of the Walker-Neufeld-Ray Cabinet Makers they grasped the third rung in the standing.

Aurora Midgets Win 8-1 In O.M.H.A. First Round

As the O.M.H.A. first round play opened Tuesday, Optimist midgets suffered a serious 8-1 setback at the hands of Aurora midgets. That means our Optimists must overhaul a seven-goal lead here Friday if further O.M.H.A. competition is to beckon.

Two "bad chappies", Gerald Chapman and Ronnie Knowles, figured in the flooring of the Optimists. Chappie popped in four goals, Ronnie pecked away for two. John Richards and Stewart Wilson were the other Aurora marksmen.

Bob Forhan, who manages to go along at a goal game clip or better, fired the goose egg cracker for Newmarket.

Aurora Snaps Bantams' Six-Game Win Streak

The Optimist bantams had built up a six game winning skid. It snapped Thursday. The snappers were Bill Munnell's Aurora bantam side. Score Aurora 2 Newmarket 0.

It was strictly a family night for Aurora. Dan Patrick fired the first Aurora counter with Ross Patrick in the aiding role. It was turn about as Aurora completed their scoring. Ross Patrick did the actual shooting and Danny Patrick set up the play. The game completed O.M.H.A. group play for the two teams.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Fan Support Would Help Bears

Aurora Bears are still breathing despite four straight losses which could have been victories. The Bruins, in what may be their last appearance of the season, meet Weston Dukes at Aurora tomorrow night, and if for no other reason than paying tribute to sponsor Jim Wall and coach Herbie Cain, you should stretch a point and see the game.

As it stands now, the Aurora team may still make the playoffs. Originally it was stated to be four teams only. Early this week, group convenor Percy Topping said his instructions were to eliminate only one team. That means a win over Weston would put Aurora in and a tie would force a play-off for the fifth play-off spot.

Dukes, who are picked as potential junior B champions, are not entirely invulnerable. Brampton decked them in one game and last Friday at Weston, Aurora had them 2-2 until mid-way in the third period. A quick goal by Doug Tingren, brother of the Leafs' Ray Tingren, made it a wide open affair and Weston ended it a 5-2 winner. The Friday night fixture thus really means a lot to all concerned with the Bears. Rumor has it of course that Weston, Aurora, North Toronto and Unionville are all in favor of a six-team play-off which seems just as logical as five teams and certainly wouldn't take any longer.

Red Ink has been written all season by the Bears and the team's take for such an important fixture as their game with St. Mike's Buzzers was less than $10 from which the referee's fees had to be paid. Nobody with the team has squawked very much about the meagre support at the gate and they've thought that the final group games would see a change in spectator support that hasn't come, partly it's true, because of the lack-lustre home performances of the team.

It's too bad that the group behind the club has to foot the bill for it entered the team without thought of making any profit for itself and the arena and players will at least fare alright on the regular season. The arena, of course, never loses. This may be the end of Junior B hockey in Aurora if the team doesn't get a play-off spot and we hate to see the old story repeated of decent, public spirited gents driven from sport by reason of poor support, indifferent performances by one or two of the players and a harsh anvil chorus from persons who wouldn't carry the torch if they could. We can think of at least a dozen of the finest executive types side-lined by the yammerings of four-bit critics in recent years. Try running a team yourself sometime. It's an experience you shouldn't miss, even though it costs you a few simoleons, late hours and perchance a few heartaches and headaches that lessen your pate.

That's why for once at least we'd like to see John Q. Phan and his frau give the Bears a rousing reception and a break at the gate. Remember, it could be you that was holding the well-known sack.

The Indians vs. Spitfire game on Saturday at Aurora was a dandy and the 4-3 score should do no harm to the gate at Newmarket when the two clubs meet. Without alibing the tribe, penalties and some first period non-chalant goal-tending by Harry Frogley got them off to a bad start from which they never recovered. The two clubs are mightily evenly matched and a win or a loss to either club doesn't mean a thing by way of prestige. We thought Tunney, Shewchuk, Bone, Todd and LaBine were tops for the Spits. Minus Toar Hill, Don Campbell and Keith Jewitt, Hal Rogers dressed Rex Bailey, Ed Williams, Orrie Thoms, Grant Firth and Doug Marchant from the Bears and all played well.

Bailey, who has looked as if he was floundering on the junior defence, played a smart game and appeared to have the confidence he showed in the early season. Norm Braithwaite, who played with Seaforth last winter, made his appearance for the first time with the tribe, although he's been around for quite a spell and he looked mighty good. All the junior players will be eligible for Indians for play when the junior club finishes and the additions will give the Gibney men the depth they've been lacking all season. Make no mistake about it, the Indians have first call on the entire junior roster and would have to release players before they could go elsewhere.

Herbie Cain will definitely not play O.H.A. hockey this winter. Cain sought a certificate to join the Indians but the O.H.A. executive ruled he would play for Newmarket Spits or not at all. Earlier this year Herb spurned an offer from Toronto Marlboros and with his season's tie-up at Aurora and his general reception by the Aurora fans, he felt he owed it to Aurora to play with the Indians if anywhere. While not beefing, Cain points out that when Al Shewchuk received his amateur card it made him a free agent and he could choose his own club and Cain thinks he should have the same treatment. It's true, of course, that Barrie has no intermediate club but both Orillia and Collingwood and perchance Midland would like Shewchuk and there's a matter of mileage and one or two other items to be considered. The Shipbuilders right now are wondering how come they can't get a certificate for Ab Bowen when Shewchuk can play for Newmarket. So far as we're concerned, we think Shewchuk as well as any former pro should have a right to say just where he'll play his first year back in amateur and the club that foots the amateur card bill of costs should be protected for at least a year.

In addition the value of a player to a club in the interest of hockey should be considered and stretching a rule to award the Spits Shewchuk would be well worth it, for he's really boosted the team from just a fair club to a real threat for intermediate A honors. Cain would make Indians a better all-round club as well.

On the subject of bills of costs, Jack Torrance and the Markham Millionaires executive are burned up over the dough they spent to get a clearance for Johnny Formica, only to see him slip across the border a la Tommy Brodie and leave the club in the lurch and out the money it had spent. It's time the O.H.A. made the Amerk raiders ante up. Indians, incidentally, will have a home game next Tuesday and the opposition is not yet known but you'd better join the growing list of club supporters. They scored a nice win over New Toronto last week to give Aurora minor sports a big boost financially. This week sees them in action three times at least. A series with Stouffville Clippers is being arranged. You'll see the dates announced.

Andy Closs and his running mate, Bert Tunney, were in a huddle on Sunday pondering the peregrinations of the Aurora Cubs. No home game this week because of the withdrawal of the Bowmanville junior C club from the group. No game next week unless exhibitions are arranged. Tomorrow night the club concludes its regular schedule at Orono and the group playdowns start after that. According to Closs' calculations, regardless of a loss to Dane Found's club, the Cubs can't be ousted from first place and they'll get a bye to the group finals. Andy, of course, may find the O.H.A. with its usual wizardry will rule otherwise. Regardless of this, the Cubs will be seeking opponents to give them the conditioning they need.

The kids have played 23 games so far this year, losing only three contests. Sponsor Jimmy Wilson is really tickled with the success of his first venture into O.H.A. hockey and thinks the Cubs will go a long way. Much of the team's future rests on the shoulders of goalie Freddie Southwood. Fred has done a grand job so far and it's too bad it's his last year in junior company. There are a few rough edges to be rounded off and a bit of encouragement from the fans would help a lot. A word of praise, too, for Don Egan who has developed into a pestiferous checker and is one of the most improved players on the team, since the start of the season. The fans like the zip and up-an-ant-tem spirit of the Cubs and they'll not lack for supporters if they get out of the group.

Keswick On 2nd Round Eliminates Beaverlton

Keswick took another leg up the ladder in their search for the Tri-County Rural Hockey League crown Friday, winning a 4-1 decision in Beaverlton. It was the second game in the semi-final set and eliminated Beaverlton. Albert Smith counted twice to pace the Keswick attack. Playing-coach Ken Davie and winger Ted Anderson showed a lot of class up front to poke in singles each to further the Keswick cause.

The team now plays to determine the intermediate B winner in west division of the Tri-County. The winner earning the right to carry on in O.R.H.A. playdowns. Opposition will be Cambray and Woodville. The three teams will decide a winner via a round-robin series. Keswick in Cambray Friday, Cambray in Keswick Saturday evening.

Optimist Team's Polish Wins Against Sutton

The Optimists twins, midgets and bantams, scored a double triumph over Sutton at the arena Friday. In midget, the locals had to keep punching down to the wire before eking out a 3-2 win. Bob Forhan sniped for two, one unassisted and one with Delwyn Creed in the helper role, to give the locals an early margin.

Sutton drove hard to tie early in the third with Bill Porte and Don Walker the marksmen. Geo. Davis then set Bill "Ding" Mair in the clear for the winning marker at 14:33. Bill finished off the play in a manner that would have made his big brother "Scottie" proud.

In the bantam contest, behind some fancy dan shot blocking by Murray Young and stout defensive work carried out by Chas. McGuire, Grant Morton and Vern Hutchinson, "Optimists" wallopped Sutton 5-0.

Ratepayers Ask School Area For Whitchurch Township Discuss Health Unit Services

A resolution favoring the formation of Whitchurch township school area was unanimously endorsed by Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association at a meeting last Monday night. The resolution will be forwarded to the township council, in an effort to "start the ball rolling".

The decision followed a lengthy discussion on the erection of a school in S. S. 13, Whitchurch.

"For the benefit of taxpayers, the township should adopt an area wherein school buildings could be collectively used to offset the problem of overcrowding," Councillor E. L. McCarron, association president, stated, pointing out that a solution for unequal distribution of enrolment in the 13 sections and the problem of enlarging present schools could be found through the establishment of the area.

As a case in point, he mentioned two sections two and a half miles apart, Ballantrae which is overcrowded and Vivian school, half filled. The operation of a centralized trustee board would replace 52 men now composing the boards in 13 school sections.

He felt operating costs, administration and dispersal of advantageous services to school and the common problems faced by teaching staffs could all be handled more effectively by a township school board.

A. E. Patchell, chairman of S. S. 13, Whitchurch trustee board, pointed out there are 471 school areas in Ontario, with 50 a year being established. Mr. McCarron said two members of the township council, who had formerly strongly opposed the plan, are now favoring the area system, which the department of education endeavors to promote.

Arbitration Board Findings

Reporting for the arbitration board chosen to select a school site in S. S. 13, George Gourlay said satisfactory findings would be made within the next two weeks. Unforeseen delay in arranging a meeting with the owner of the proposed property has delayed an award.

"Whether you want a large or small school, the matter is in your hand," the president told ratepayers of that section. "Despite school grants, you pay the bill." In the final analysis, he said, those concerned with arbitrating for a site and those concerned with the erection of a school are doing all in their power.

"Township council has an open mind on your school problem," Councillor McCarron assured the association. "I am personally convinced that S. S. 13 will have a school by September. Township council deserves a hand," he said, "for its co-operation in the lake area problems. It is bending backward."

Industrial Development

"The method of taxation is the same as it was 75 or 100 years ago but methods of spending have been modernized," Councillor McCarron said in outlining his views on industrial development and assessment for Whitchurch township. Industries are decentralizing to save money. They are looking for locations outside crowded centres. On the other hand those from rural areas who regularly commute to industrial centres for employment are finding a burden in time and expense.

"Look back 100 years ago how villages sprang up; industry came in to replace the grist mill. With the establishment of industry within the township labor would become home owners." These people would be close to their work. Whitchurch township planning board is consulting the Toronto Industrial Commission, an organization whose business it is to locate industries, suitable to a rural municipality. Mr. McCarron said big industry would not necessarily be sought. The small factory employing 40 local residents is very feasible.

Ratepayers were assured that the north Lake Wilcox road now under improvement would be an excellent township roadway. With completion of specifications by the engineers, tenders will be called for. A great deal is involved in this construction. Hydro poles must be moved and suitable ditches provided, among other considerations.

Traffic Hazard

A letter from Major Lex MacKenzie, M.P.P., indicated the traffic division of the department of highways is now checking on the traffic hazard at Oak Ridges school in the Yonge St. area. Mrs. Bob Woolley, president of the Home and School Association, instigators of the local safety committee, agreed to present the notation to Mr. W. Arland, safety chairman, for an immediate reply to Mr. MacKenzie.

Urgo County Health Unit

Everything in the way of health services is covered in the set-up offered by York County Health Unit, according to the advice to a committee headed by Mrs. C. L. Stephenson investigating the cost and operation of nursing services for schools and communities. At the request of Oak Ridges school board, the committee consulted the V.O.N. organization and Ross Linton, Aurora, secretary-treasurer of York County Health Unit.

A report released from Mrs. Stephenson lists the following services offered by the health unit: school nurse, classroom inspection of eyes, ears, teeth, head of students, clinics for pre-school children, immunization, T.B. inspections with all cases reported to the unit and follow up work done on contacts; inspection of refuse dumps, bathing areas, funeral homes, all homes where infants are boarded, municipal water supplies, water testing, slaughter houses, septic tanks and plumbing, milk inspection on farms, milk stations, bakeries and eating establishments.

Cost of Health Services

For these services Whitchurch township would pay $3,760 of which 50 percent is paid by the province of Ontario. The federal government grant is 75 percent of the cost of upkeep of cars used by doctors, nurses and inspectors.

Oak Ridges school board is paying $500 a year for the services of the school nurse. The medical officer of health for the township receives $250 a year. S. S. 13, Whitchurch, would be required to pay $500 or more toward employment of a school nurse. A total of $1,250 represents sents estimated costs for nursing service in two schools and the township M.O.H. Comparing this figure with the foregoing costs of the operation of the county health unit, the report asks, "if it is good business to pay so much for the present health system". It adds that no doubt additional expenditures for health arise in the township of which the "committee has no knowledge". Pine Orchard has requested Whitchurch township council to join the York County Health Unit.

A half-ton panel truck caught on fire late Tuesday night on the second of King north of Temperanceville. The truck is owned by George MacIntyre, Oak Ridges. It was driven by Kenneth Gillham. Aurora fire department was called.

Mrs. H. A. Switzer and her daughter, Mrs. Clifford King, visited in Toronto last week and also attended the ice follies.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver had Sunday dinner with Mrs. Percy Allin, Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Dunn, Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson.

Mr. John Yake had the misfortune to fall and break his wrist. Our best wishes for his recovery.

Mrs. Allen Doner, Gormley, has been engaged as a supply teacher at Vandorf school. Mrs. Gould has been advised by her doctor to have an operation and rest. We wish her well.

Miss Joyce Sleeth and Mr. Bob Rostance visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Cobourg, last weekend.

Tunney's sextette recorded a 7-0 blanking of Townsley's crew. Cullen over Allen 5-2. League standing Tunney 83, Townsley 71, Cullen 64, Allen 62.

Rooksters are well out in front in the V.L.A. bowling circle with 46, Ran-offs second 35, and Tail-enders are just that with 31. In averages department, men's division, Lou Tompkins is high with 203, runner-up Neil MacDonald 184. With the ladies Lillian Rank high with 141, second Barb Thompson 135. Marion Pickering headed the list last week with a 284 double that included a high single game of 166. Lou Tompkins was high man with a 515 double and a 280 single game mark.

Myrtle Dunn spilled the pins with the Thursday night girls for a 696 (306-153-237). Other top scoring marks were compiled by Betty VanZant 597, Helen Tomlinson 533, Emma Broadbent 582, Edythe Hall 550, Mary Osborne 534, Olive Hughson 528, Helen Coveney 527, Vi Dales 509.

Nothing sensational from the Monday Town Ladies' league. Top hitter Edna McGrath with 578 (222-228-128). Other high marks Claire Pollock 565, Mini Giovannelli 552, Mary Austin 529, Flo Campbell 528, Phyl McInnis 525, Agnes Gordon 516, Emma Broadbent 509. Two sweeps recorded Femmes and Feeps blanking Cubs and Spark Plugs 4-0, Dubs and Wizards broke even. Wizards out front with 40, trailing Femmes 37, Cubs 36½, Spark Plugs 33, Feeps 31, Dubs 26½.

Busy hockey week in the hamlet. Opened with Spits taking a fall out of the Shipbuilders. Saturday fightin' and foudin' hit a high as coach Larry Molyneux sic'd the Spits onto Harv Gibney's Aurora Indians. Top entertainment as Spits win 4-3 and penalty timers do double shift.

Monday off-night duel with Stouffville was called "a best of the season". Spits dropped it 5-3 but lost no disciples doing so. We get the needle Thursday but good, and rightly so. Spits not "whomped" from fourth place as we said. Teams did battle here Thursday on even terms for fourth. Molyneux men win and the fourth place is theirs.

We had taken our facts and figures from official standing received Monday that indicated Spits and Shipbuilders tied. Spits lose Tuesday so we gain impression Bush's men up—not so. Official count haywire. Take it all back and gladly.

Spiffire notes: Don Smith was back Thursday. Couldn't figure out whether he worked harder getting permission to play or out on the ice, but he did pick up two assists. Normie Legge is probably lost for the season over his knee injury. Going to miss his checking. Gord Bone missed Monday's tussle because the missus fractured her ankle. Myles McInnis did first rate job back of the blue stripe. Ever notice

Odds Getting Short On Bears' Entry In Finals

Odds are getting desperately short on Hack Cain's Aurora "Bears" being a party to the play-off fun in the Big Six. Friday, the Bears lost a 5-2 decision to the group-leading Weston "Dukes" in the suburban centre.

The Bears, out of the first round 2-0 trailers, put on a determined second period drive to tie. Grant Firth got number one on a pass up the red line from Laurie Thoms and Joe Scanlon, latest addition to the Bears, did the pay-off shooting.

The Bears' effort was too much as the Dukes stepped up and taking advantage of penalties, wrapped up the game with a three-goal third period effort.

Doug Timgren and Don MacIntosh shot double goals to pipe the Dukes into the winners' circle.

There's hope of the Bears making it. A win at Aurora tomorrow evening against the Marlboros might just turn the trick.

LOCALS WIN BIRDIE OPENER HERE FRIDAY

Early returns from the North York Badminton league games indicate a close race in the making for the group crown. Three teams are entered this year. Newmarket, Willowdale and Aurora and Richmond Hill joint entry. The Hill team is without a gym this season because of work at the high school.

Aurora was visitor at the high school here Monday for a league contest. Newmarket gained five wins in the eight contests but a breakdown of results indicates it was much closer, the local over-the-webbing team managing eight wins in the 15 games played. Newmarket visits Willowdale next Monday, Feb. 12.

Results with Newmarket players named first were: men's doubles: Bob Yates and Jack Hamilton defeated Harry Boyd and Doug Nisbet 15-3; Ken Peckers and Don Caldwell were defeated by Wilb Preston and Frank Wims 15-15.

Ladies' doubles: Helen Coveney and Florence Callaghan were defeated by Phyl Angle and Marie Johnston 13-13; Eva Whitfield and Barbara Hamilton were defeated by Pauline McKnight and Maxine Nisbet 1-15.

Mixed doubles: Flo Callaghan and Bob Yates won over Pauline McKenzie and Harry Boyd 15-7; Barbara Hamilton and Jack Hamilton won over Phyl Angle and Frank Wims in a long contest 18-10; Helen Coveney and Ken Peckers won over Maxine Nisbet and Doug Nisbet 15-7; Eva Whitfield and Don Campbell won over Marie Johnston and Wilb Preston 15-8.

Spits Defeat Aurora Indians Win Over Collingwood To Keep League Fourth Place

The intended sculpting party arranged by the Indians didn't come off according to plan. The Spits won a 4-3 decision. Nobody killed, nobody injured, nobody lost face.

But don't leave with the idea Spits was served. It wasn't. Both laid on the hickory. Referees Bob Peters and Cec Carpenter kept their thumbs in motion. Result was 21 penalties, 11 for Spits, ten for the Indians.

Heading the social callers to the cooler were Loring Doolittle and "Swiftly" Todd with four each. Dooley was finally relieved of his war togs (by request, we're told) to view the third period in civvies. Hack Cain did wing-dutty for the Indians and picked up two minors and a major, the latter result of high-sticking duel—plus one punch aimed at Stan Gibbons.

Spits ambushed the Indians early, scooping up a 3-0 first period margin. "Swiftly" Todd with Gord Bone, Denny Labine with "Swiftly" Todd and Stan Gibbons, playing a strong up front game, with Al Shewchuk, banked in the three goals.

The teams traded goals midway through the second. Bill Boychoff picked his spot to beat Joe Tunney with the help of Hec Heighington, a new Aurora recruit. Bill Johnston got that back in a hurry with a screened, close-in drive helped by Harold Tunstead.

The Indians made it 4-2 then, 4-3 as the "Kid Line", up from the Bears, drew the plaudits. Grant Firth with Laurie Thoms and Laurie Thoms via a pass from Vic Meharg moved the Indians within one of the equalizer at the five-minute mark of the third—the best round by far. Coach Harvey Gibney hailed his net-minder, Harry Frogley, to the sidelines in a last minute strategy but Joe Tunney frustrated a couple of Indian scoring thrusts.

Al Shewchuk, Joe Peat, and Gord Bone gave special attention to Aurora rushers. Aurora used Rex Bailey, Laurie Thoms, Grant Firth, Don Marchant and Ed Williams from the junior ranks and Hack Cain for an 18-man roster. Hack Cain was a marked man as Myles McInnis gave him checking attention. Larry Molyneux threw 12 Spits into the fray, including Don Smith back from a recent fractured wrist.

SPITS LOSE TO CLIPPERS 3-3

Monday's off night hit between the Clippers and the Spiffires was billed as Newmarket's fastest hockey. It was that and a host game of the season as Larry Molyneux's men matched the fast skating strides of the Clippers. Bob Bangay's Clippers, out of Stouffville, squeezed by the Spits for a 3-3 win.

The first period was a check mate. "Swiftly" Todd manipulated a smart inside move to open the scoring. Denny Labine set

Indians Stop Wheelers Twice, Lose To Woodbridge 3-2

Three Indians of ours put across a couple of important wins this week. Our Trolley League lead was being threatened by Winged Wheelers. So what do the Indians do? They go out Monday and Tuesday and put a stop to any ideas the Wheelers might have about displacing us. The Indians cooked up a double mess of trouble for the Wheelers, 4-1 in Woodbridge and back home 5-3.

Mr. Rogers, who spoke the above words with prompting from Coach Harvey Gibney, might have added it was the first time the Wheelers had been knocked off.

A furious five-goal rally in the second period spearheaded the Indians' Monday win in Woodbridge. New hired help, up from the Junior Bears, Laurie "Ortie" Thoms and Grant "Whirling Dervish" Firth, all but managed the Indians' complete scoring show. Thoms knocked four times and entered the charmed circle, his flanker Firth blazed away for three. Jim O'Hearn, an old hand, kicked in with a goal while Jack "Trigger" Runney shone in the assist column with three.

Moving back into action Tuesday in Aurora, the Indians draped a second loss on the bewildered Wheelers. Grant Firth waited late in the first before giving the Indians a 1-0 edge. Firth had side help from Don Campbell and Laurie Thoms. Kullerton slammed the tying goal by Harry Frogley in the second before Harry Morrison-Jim O'Hearn-Jack Runney trio fired a twine bender, the first mentioned doing the potting.

Firth, Thoms and Bill McGhee three-way relay posted a 3-1 lead before the teams took a rest. It was a trade in the third, both teams blasting in a pair from Harry Morrison from Jim O'Hearn. Fullerton cashed in his second tally and Wells dropped the biscuit into the Aurora cage for the broken Winged Wheelers. Harry Frogley, Aurora net-minder, drew a ten-minute sentence for over-doing the flow of language with Referee Harry Morrison (no relation of the Indians' center-man).

INDIANS LOSE 3-2 Aurora "Indians", who couldn't do anything wrong in the early rounds of the Trolley League, are now having their troubles. Last Thursday Coach Harvey Gibney trocked his braves into Woodbridge for the official opening of Woodbridge's new plush artificial ice arena. The Indians imbued with the spirit of not spoiling "the official opener" for Charles Rowntree, obligingly absorbed a 3-2 loss. Due to the opening ceremonies the game didn't get underway until 10.30.

Bill Patrick polished off a three-way relay with Dave Hopper and Keith Wardell for Aurora's second period tally. Gibney's top scoring line of Jack Runney, Jim O'Hearn and Harry Morrison figured in the other Aurora marker.

JUVENILES LOSE 4-1 Newmarket Imperial juveniles skidded below the 50-50 mark on their season's record Friday, being dumped by the strong Sunderland club 4-3. It was a third loss for the locals against two wins. Sunderland hopped into a first period 4-0 lead and never let go. Stan Pollard with two and "Mickey" Barker with a goal and an assist were the Imperials' main cogs.

We've Cut Tire Prices! Here's Why

By HOWARD MORTON

Have been reading a lot lately about increasing prices, increasing restrictions, increasing war tension and some forms of panic buying.

One leading industrialist has put his finger on the effect this sort of thing may have upon our economy and upon our chances of being successful in a shooting war. He said that foreign ideology operated on the theory of capturing the mind and by first having mass reaction, as indicated by panic buying, they were soon able to enslave both the mind and the body.

At first inspection, that seems rather fantastic, but after considering it for a while, I have concluded that such a thing could be. We all know the effect of mass panic in the case of fire or disaster. It is, however, not enough to recognize the danger; we must do something about it.

We decided to start on tires. We have lots of them. There is no need to buy them if you do not need them. We do not suggest that you should throw away your used ones to purchase now, nor that you should stock them.

We also believe that the price is too high and we are moving our lists back down in price from 10 to 50 percent until our stock is reduced.

Of course, these are obtainable at Morton Bros., Pontiac, Buick dealers, Eagle St., Newmarket, phone 846.

FIFTH CONCESSION EFFORT

King Credit Union Seeks Members

The rapidly expanding King Township Credit Union, recently organized through the efforts of a group on the fifth concession road, is seeking members from all parts of the township.

This township union, in common with all other credit unions in Canada and the United States, is a co-operative bank operated by its members who have a common bond of association through their residence in King twp. Purpose of these co-operative banks is to encourage thrift among their members and to provide those members with credit when credit is needed.

The Ontario department of agriculture a few weeks ago granted this new credit union a charter, an action which set it up in business. As a result, Monday nights, at 8, have been set aside as banking nights—the weekly meeting when members make their deposits. For the present, bank night is held in the separate school on the fifth concession road, a mile and a half south of the Aurora sideroad, or two and a half miles north of the King sideroad.

When an enlarged township-wide membership necessitates such a move, district collectors will be appointed and other bank night locales established. Meanwhile, residents of King twp. are invited to attend the regular banking period any Monday night, either for the purpose of joining the union or to obtain further information.

Officers of this new community organization are John C. Scott, pres.; Joseph Ball, vice pres.; L. J. McCormick, sec.; Herbert Parker, treas.; R. J. O'Reilly, Peter

J. Flanagan and Edward Sullivan, directors in charge of education and insurance.

All are residents of R. R. No. 1, King. The credit committee members are Allan Cutting, R. R. 1, Kettleby; F. Stefani, R. R. 1, Richmond Hill; Robert Crook, R. R. 1, King. The supervisory committee is composed of Ray McCrohan, William Murray and Arthur Magee, all of R. R. 1, King.

BUSY BEAVERS AT WORK

Under the supervision of H. A. Tite, their Sunday-school teacher, these members of the Busy Beaver club work on old toys donated by Newmarket residents. They repair them, add missing parts and paint them to look like new. Left to right are Ernest Tite, Don Lewis, Bobby Byers, Mr. Tite, Laurence Tite, Francis Lewis, Bradley Walker, Barry Jones and Phyl Boynton. The club is an outgrowth of Mr. Tite's Sunday-school class at Trinity United church, Newmarket. The repaired toys are sent now to the Ontario hospital at Aurora. Era and Express photo.

Aurora Recreation Comm. To Meet With Council Over Disposal Of Mechanics Hall

There has been a postponement in the anticipated show-down over the disposal of the Mechanics' Hall by the Aurora council. Chief opposition to the council's decision to dispose of the hall has originated with the recreation commission.

On Monday night, council read a letter from the commission saying that representatives would appear before council at the next meeting. The letter was filed for consideration either when the delegation appears or when the tenders are opened.

The hall was advertised for sale or rent following a decision of the council on January 8. Tenders are to close on March 5.

The hall is currently being occupied by Aurora Textiles Ltd. which is moving from it in March to their new building in the south end of Aurora. The approaching move has been common knowledge for some months and last fall, the Aurora recreation commission asked that it be given the use of the building. The request was later repeated to council. In the meantime, the Aurora Lions club also asked for the building.

Faced with the demands of two local organizations, council thought the wisest choice was to advertise the building for sale or lease and try to determine who else might want the building. It was emphasized by council members that the move committed council to nothing, and it was stated in the advertisement that the highest bid was not necessarily acceptable.

It was pointed out by Clerk Harold Clark that the council is not obligated in any way to dispose of the building, and that rather than lease it or sell it to a local organization, may decide to keep it.

It was also pointed out that Aurora at the present time has a large number of halls already at hand. There are the Legion Hall, the high school, the old public school, the recreation hall in the arena and church halls, and that the town had not suffered seriously for lack of Mechanics Hall.

The upkeep of the hall, if retained by the town, could become another burden on the taxpayers, out of all proportion to the benefits received.

OPENS EXHIBITION

Rudy Renzius officiated at the opening of the weekend of an exhibition of arts and crafts in the library at London, Ont. Mr. Renzius, member of Newmarket town council and a member of the staff of Pickering College, is an authority on pewter work. He gave a demonstration of pewter working, and a talk on its history, at the exhibition.

York Juniors Enjoy Successful Annual Dance

With close to 200 juniors and their guests present for their annual "At Home" dance at Newmarket high school on January 26, the executive of the York County Junior Farmers' Association feel that the evening was a decided success.

The large auditorium was colorfully decorated in the county colors of blue and white, while posters depicting winter scenes drawn and painted by two enterprising members of the Sharon club, Dave and Bertha Crone, were placed on the pillars along the walls. Music supplied by Don Gilkes' orchestra again proved popular with the dancers. A special prize for the person who had served his club the greatest number of years ago as president was won by Jack Greig, Newmarket, a past president of the Sharon Junior Farmers.

At intermission everyone enjoyed a lunch of sandwiches, cookies and coffee and York Juniors gave their guests a warm welcome as friends from Peel, South Simcoe and Ontario were introduced. Noted among the dancers were former assistant representatives, Oliver Dalrymple and Archie McKenzie, and a late arrival was made by Miss Lucille Barber, former home economist who came all the way from Goderich.

Congratulations are in order for the presidents of Unionville and Vellore clubs who planned the dance, and to the members of the Sharon and Vandroft clubs who did such a good job on the decorations.

UNION STREET

The National Film Board will show slides at Maple Hill school on Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at eight o'clock. Everyone welcome.

Thirteen ladies from this community visited the Ontario Hospital at Aurora, for mentally deficient boys. There are 250 patients in residence at the present time. The ladies were received by Dr. Reddick and were shown the different rooms, all were well pleased with what they had seen.

The draw for the pink wool blanket was made at the dance at Maple Hill school and was won by Mrs. David English, Queensville.

Lowell Keffer Wins Trip To United Nations

Lowell W. Keffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Keffer, Timothy St., has won an all expense trip to New York as representative of Newmarket high school in a student group visiting the United Nations sessions at Lake Success.

He will be one of a group of 11 fifth form students from the different high schools in this area. They will be accompanied by B. Newall, principal of Markham high school. They left by plane from Malton on Wednesday, Feb. 7, and will return Sunday, Feb. 11. Besides attending the United Nations sessions the boys will do some sight-seeing in New York city.

Lowell won the trip on the strength of his scholastic standing. He had the highest standing in history.

PLEASANTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh and Misses Doris and Shirley McIntosh, Queensville, were recent Sunday tea guests at the home of Mr. Elmer Mortson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Colville were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Evans, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Greenwood and son, Charles, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Delmer Preston and family at Queensville.

Mrs. Emmerson Bateman, Temperanceville, spent part of Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sheridan.

Saturday night for tea Mr. and Mrs. Harry West entertained Mr. and Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Wreggitt, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Shirley and Clarke spent the weekend in Toronto with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, the occasion being Mr. and Mrs. Smith's eighth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray McClure and Wanda, Mrs. G. McClure had Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. R. Jewitt, Kettleby. Little Miss Glenna Jewitt returned home with them after a few days' visit at Mrs. G. McClure's home.

Miss M. Roberts, Toronto, spent the weekend with her mother and brother, Mrs. E. Holman and Mr. L. Holman.

Little Miss Brenda Glover returned home on Sunday after a week's visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Gardner, in Toronto.

26 Calls Over Weekend Show Classified Power

Classifieds surely got results for Mrs. James Coltham of Newmarket. She advertised a house for rent in the Era and Express last week. It was a small ad. It read simply: "For rent — A five-room house. Apply 50 Timothy St. East, Newmarket."

But between the time the paper appeared and Monday night, she had received 26 replies, some of them from as far away as Toronto and Stouffville to the south, and Miami Beach to the north.

Mrs. Coltham called the paper with this information. "I thought you might be interested," she said. Thank you very much, Mrs. Coltham.

Will they ever strike oil in your back yard?

An exciting thought, isn't it? But of course you know the odds are hopelessly against your being that lucky. In fact, you don't expect life to hand you even a very small fortune on a platter. Or do you?

Take old-age benefits, for instance. Undoubtedly many older people really need help. But no over all security plan is going to provide all the income you and your family will ever need in the future. Things just aren't going to be that rosy.

Five million Canadians, among whom you are probably one, want and expect security and independence in their later years. And they are planning for it now, in a way that suits their own individual and family needs.

These far-sighted men and women are enjoying more of the good things of life than ever before, and at the same time protecting their loved ones now and building security for their old-age with life insurance.

Surely you want to help build this kind of future security for yourself and your family. Nearly 5 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are doing it now!

COME ON IN, SON, AND meet the manager!

When you take over the farm, one of these days, you'll want to talk to him. You can discuss your affairs in a friendly way, as I have done. And you'll find he knows a lot.

He knows we farmers need bank credit—sometimes to put in a crop, sometimes to take off a harvest. If we need market information, he can get it for us.

Remember when we electrified the farm? Our bank manager made me the loan. He's backed us up that way for years, helping us to improve our stock, increase production.

And that's what our bank manager is there for—to help you and me to manage.

He's a good man to know.

AURORA AUXILIARY HAS GOOD EUCHRE

On Monday evening, Jan. 29, the Aurora Legion Ladies' Auxiliary held a successful euchre and bridge in the Legion hall. The next euchre and bridge will be held in the hall on Monday, Feb. 26. The following were the prize winners: bridge, ladies high, Mrs. Doan; ladies low, Mrs. Hartman; men's high, Mr. Rodgers; men's low, Mr. Doan; euchre: Mrs. C. Phillips, first; Mrs. E. Fleury, second; Mrs. C. Burling, Newmarket, third; Mrs. H. Burling, Newmarket, men's high; Mr. G. Seaton, second; Mrs. S. Ball, third.

The draw for a beautiful lunch cloth set was won by G. L. Wilkinson.

AUXILIARY EUCHRES TO BUY CURTAINS

At a recent meeting of the euchre committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Newmarket plans were completed for holding a euchre party each month throughout the year. For the past three years, the auxiliary has held these parties on the first Thursday of each month. In future they will be held on the first Wednesday, but until the Legion hall is completed, no definite dates can be set so the auxiliary asks its patrons to watch for the announcement of the exact date each month.

A standing committee has been appointed to convene these euchres under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Sheridan. The members of the committee are Mrs. Leo Tunney, Mrs. Arthur Daley, Mrs. Herbert Atkins and Mrs. Annie Sanderson.

Money raised by the auxiliary is used to assist the Legion in its work. Recently $400 was donated to the Legion building fund. The project on hand is raising money to purchase draperies for the new Legion hall.

NURSES ORGANIZE YORK COUNTY CLUB

The nurses of Newmarket and the surrounding district have organized a club known as the York County Nurses' association. To it are welcomed all nurses who are interested in joining the group. Meeting will be held monthly.

The first gathering will be at York County hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 6, at 8 p.m., when the guest speaker, Dr. Margaret Arkinstall, will address the group on "The Nursing Profession". An invitation is extended to all nurses in the district to attend.

SHOW FILMS OF EAST AT MISSION MEETING

A well attended meeting of the Young People's Missionary Society of the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, was held in the church January 18. Cyril Gibbons, president, was in the chair. The program included vocal selections by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sedore and the men's quartet. Slides showing the new mission field in the Philippines which was opened by Rev. and Mrs. Walter Groesbeck accompanied an interesting account of the work by Mrs. Ruth Spence.

CHURCH MEMBERS SHOWER COUPLE

Over 50 members of the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, gathered at the home of Mrs. Chas. Wrightman on Wednesday, Jan. 17. The occasion was a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Betty Keetch and Dennis Martin.

The couple received many lovely gifts. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served. The wedding was on Saturday, Jan. 27.

Needlecraft News
by Pauline Roy

CHILDS with nimble fingers have a big advantage these days. They can have complete, fashion-right wardrobes at no cost burden. Why? Because they've learned how to make things for themselves at a saving of one-half to two-thirds the price of a similar ready-made article. In addition to these important advantages—needlework is fun to do.

Interest in knitting has been growing by leaps and bounds. It is evident from the popularity of knitted sweaters, dresses and suits, and also knitted trimmings on many wool jersey outfits. The price of these hand-knits is nearly prohibitive in the stores, so the girl who can knit and purr her own outfits is very fortunate.

Knitting, as you've probably heard, is one of the simplest needlework arts to learn. Once you get past the knitting and purling stage—practice for a while until your rows are smooth and even—you'll be set to start on your article. All the other intricate looking knitting stitches are really variations of these two fundamental stitches.

Hand-knitted articles where two or more colors are used are fun to do, too. Patterns such as Fair Isle, diamond and other novelty designs are not difficult at all if you have good instructions and follow them accurately. Some women prefer to work with multi-color designs when they knit, for they find it more interesting and they say the articles seem to work up more quickly.

For sportswear of all types, hand-knitted garments are ideal. In summer, lightweight tennis socks and sweaters are pretty and comfortable to wear. For winter sports, woolen caps, mitts and gloves as well as heavy socks and sweaters are tops. After-ski socks are another popular item with those who favor the outdoor life in the winter.

The pair of cozy footwarmers pictured here is knitted of warm double knitting wool with the Fair Isle pattern in a contrasting color. The slipper soles to which the socks are attached are easily removed for laundering purposes. For directions for knitting these AFTER SKI SOCKS simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper asking for Leaflet No. GW-10.

How To Choose And Use Onions

Just think how you would miss onions if you did not have them to use when preparing your favorite dishes. Well, there is no need to worry about missing onions because they are in plentiful supply at the present time. Carrying a reasonable price tag in any grocery store you are almost sure to find today the yellow globe type of onion which is so well known to Canadian consumers.

In many homes, storage space is good enough to allow the purchase of a large supply of onions at one time. A dry, cool, well ventilated storage space is all that is needed. There they may be kept for the entire winter season. They should be of good quality when they are put away so buy onions which are firm, dry and well shaped. Be sure that they are not sprouted, peeled nor have root growth and that they are free of any damage due to disease, insects or frost.

A few of the more common left-overs such as cooked meats or fish, macaroni and cheese, and cooked vegetables make ideal fillings for baked, stuffed onions which are prepared this way. Par-boil the onions about 20 minutes, allowing a large one for each person; then scoop out the centres, saving them to chop into the fillings. Fill the onions with any of the above mentioned, well-seasoned fillings and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for about 30 minutes. When served with a tomato, cheese or cream sauce baked, stuffed onions make a delicious supper dish.

Boiled onions are the basis of many a good dish. The onions are first cooked until tender in a small amount of water and then served with cheese sauce, mustard sauce or cream sauce. Boiled onions are good when served in a cream sauce on toast with chopped cooked bacon, or when glazed with a little honey.

FRENCH ONION SOUP
2 tbsp. butter
1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cups thinly sliced onions (depending upon desired thickness)
5 cups meat stock, canned bouillon or diluted bouillon cubes
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup finely grated old Canadian Cheddar cheese
CROUTONS or French bread
Melt butter in a saucepan, add onions and saute until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Add stock and simmer, covered about 20 minutes or until onions are just tender. Season with salt and pepper. Pour into soup bowls, sprinkle with grated cheese and place croutons on top. If using French bread place slices around edge of soup. This recipe will make approximately 8 8-ounce cups of soup.

QUICK CREAM OF ONION SOUP
4 tbsp. butter
1 cup flour
1 cup hot milk
2 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup finely grated raw onion
Melt butter in top of double boiler, blend in flour. Gradually add the heated milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add salt, pepper and onion and cook over hot water until onion is cooked, about 20 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve hot. This recipe will make approximately 8 8-ounce cups of soup.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY YORK H.S. COUNCIL

The 21st birthday party of the York County Home and School council was held at the Ryerson Institute of Technology, Toronto, January 25. Attending from Newmarket were Mrs. Ted Mitchell, Mrs. Leslie Boynton, Mrs. Bert Morrison and Mrs. C. D. Barber.

The evening began with a tour of the institute. Fashioned after the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Ryerson is actually 11 schools in one. A birthday play depicting the origin of Home and School was presented by members of the council executive under the direction of the music and arts convener, Mrs. H. W. Panter. This was followed by several selections by the Rainbow choir of East York directed by Norman S. Tuckwell.

Lunch was served in the library and board room with each guest receiving a tiny individual birthday cake. An enjoyable time was had by the large group attending.

NURSERY SCHOOL FOR ST. ANDREW'S

A nursery school for children five years of age and under was begun at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, on Sunday, Jan. 28. The Women's Association is sponsoring the project.

The school, which is held at the same hour as the regular morning service, will be a welcome addition for it will enable parents with pre-school age children to attend this service.

Mrs. A. P. Cumming is in charge of the nursery school. She will be assisted by the mothers of the children who will take turns in helping her.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK
Mr. H. Hawkins, returned missionary from South Africa, formerly of Aurora, will speak at the Ladies' Prayer Group at the Newmarket Gospel Tabernacle, Thursday, Feb. 15, at 2:30 p.m. All ladies are welcome.

SUCCESSFUL EUCHRE
The Newmarket Women's Institute held a successful euchre party at Club 14 on Monday, January 29. There were 25 tables. The project was sponsored by the groups convened by Mrs. Ed Richardson and Mrs. Myrtle Brillinger. Following a pleasant evening, refreshments were served.

FINANCE CHAIRMAN
Mrs. N. L. Mathews was appointed chairman of the Newmarket public school board's finance committee, not Mrs. M. B. Seldon as reported.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASS'N

What It Is And What It Does

The organization of the Home and School Association is frequently puzzling to both new members in local associations and to members of other clubs. Mrs. P. A. McClelland, president of York County Home and School Council, who addressed the January meeting of the Newmarket association, describes it as follows:

"Our National Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation covers work in all provinces in the Dominion of Canada and represents all associations in matters of national importance. The national group is financed solely through the per capita fees collected by the provincial group."

"A national office is maintained in Toronto and there is one paid secretary, the balance of the work being done by voluntary workers in many parts of the Dominion. Each provincial federation is represented on the executive of this body."

"Ontario Federation of Home and School associations is the largest provincial group and maintains offices and the Courtice Memorial library in Toronto. Total staff is one full-time secretary and one part-time assistant. A tremendous amount of voluntary work is needed to prepare for mailing the information going out to the local associations throughout the province."

"The Courtice Memorial library is staffed entirely by volunteers who spend at least one full day per week, packing, mending and mailing books for loan throughout the province. Ontario federation convenes work unceasingly to bring to us in local associations all modern trends in education, health, radio, visual aids, music and arts, religious education, citizenship, parent education and many other phases of good family living."

"Ontario Federation is financed by the per capita fee of 20 cents, less five cents which is forwarded to the national organization. In addition, the Ontario department of education supplies a yearly grant to assist in extension and organization work. Department officials and inspectors agree that a good home and school association is a definite asset to their work of education in Ontario.

"We would stress that the Ontario federation is the voice of you—the local association. Resolutions sent to councils are in turn forwarded to Ontario federation, and if approved and of national importance, may eventually speak for over 173,000 parents in the Dominion. We urge that progress reports be considered most important and details fully given and returned to the office."

"From the Ontario federation we come to the local councils, and specifically, York council. We are the link between Ontario federation and the local association and are set up for conference rather than legislative action."

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Randy's Practical Spending

Randy, seven years old, is learning the value of money.

Randy's parents have spent considerable time trying to help Randy use judgement in spending his weekly allowance. He has been a rather apt pupil and has learned to save for something he especially wants, even though it means a little self-denial for a few weeks.

It just happened that during a recent tag day, Randy's mother gave him a dime to buy a tag. It seems Randy had quite a discussion with the young girl who was selling tags. It would seem that the young girl thought Randy was being smart and didn't give him the informative answers he deserved and needed.

Randy returned home without a tag. He returned the dime to his mother and half apologized for not having bought what she had asked him to buy. Then he justified himself by saying, "I couldn't spend a dime for one of those little pieces of cardboard; they weren't even worth a nickel."

Here, we deal with local problems and give direct assistance in the actual work of the association through our conveners and officers. The council president is automatically a member of the Ontario federation board of directors and speaks for the council at all board meetings.

"York council is divided into six areas, each area being supervised by a vice president. Four or five general meetings are held each year including a training conference each fall. Presidents' and conveners' conferences are held regularly and local problems and successes are shared to mutual benefit. The council is financed by a $2 affiliation fee and the annual birthday gifts received at the January birthday party."

Although it wasn't easy to explain to the very practical Randy that he wasn't really buying a tag for what the tag was worth but for the work undertaken by the sponsoring organization, mother tried just that. She compared the situation with that of giving a dime at Sunday-school. Then it was revealed that Randy thought the Sunday-school collection helped buy the crayons and picture books they used at Sunday-school. He really thought he was getting his money's worth at Sunday-school.

It took time for a satisfying explanation, but Randy did eventually get the idea about helping pay for important work. He really liked the idea of having a part in helping so he offered to go to the corner once more.

When Randy returned this time, he was without the tag but he had spent the dime. He explained, "I gave the girl your dime, but I told her she could keep her old tag". Randy is still being practical.

JEAN SNOODEN WED TO W. JOHN CARTER

Baskets of 'mums' formed the setting in the Free Methodist church, Orillia, on January 22 for the marriage of Rose Ella Jean Snodden, Newmarket, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Snodden, Orillia, and Mr. William John Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Carter, Holt. Rev. R. T. Holt, Orillia, conducted the ceremony. Mrs. Melville Lamb was organist and Mrs. Alvin Pitts, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of brocade satin with train. Her fingertip veil was caught with pearls and she carried a white Bible. Mrs. Norma Deyo, Newmarket, matron of honor, wore green taffeta and carried yellow roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Smith, Orillia, and Miss Fernie Wood, Barrie, in yellow and mauve taffeta with matching halos, carried nosegays of roses. The flowergirl, little Judy Snodden, cousin of the bride, was gowned in mauve with nosegay of roses and 'mums. Mr. Raymond Carter was best man for his brother and ushers were Messrs. Ivan Snodden, Orillia, brother of the bride, and Charles Galloway, Holt.

The reception was held at an Orillia hotel where the bride's mother received in navy with grey accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses assisted by the groom's mother in wine with black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses. For travelling to Sarnia the bride chose a brown dress with matching accessories. The couple will reside in Newmarket.

W.M.S. WORKS ON QUILT

The W.M.S. of the Church of the Nazarene, Newmarket, met at the home of Mrs. Lorne Baker on Wednesday, Jan. 24. Presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Earl Weddel, was the vice president, Mrs. John Shier. The afternoon was spent making a quilt. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

The seven seas are the North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, Arctic, Antarctic and Indian Oceans.

W.I. RESUMES PARCELS TO ENGLISH GROUP

The Newmarket Women's Institute has resumed the project of sending a monthly parcel of foodstuffs to a sister Institute in England. Each group will take its turn at sending the parcels with Mrs. Armstrong's group being responsible for this month.

The parcels were sent regularly for several years, but with the cancelling of the U.E.F.B. shipping service, the project was discontinued. The recent decreases in the meat allotments for British families has brought each person's ration to 9 to 12 cents of meat a week—the equivalent of one lamb chop.

In the English Institute which the Newmarket group has "adopted" there are about 120 members at the regular meetings. The ladies draw numbers and the lucky ones get an item from the parcel of food. The last shipment was a carton of jelly powders. This time it is a carton of salmon which will be sent.

PHONE IMPOSSIBLE FOR REST ROOM

Several requests have been received by the Newmarket Women's Institute to install a telephone at the rest room, Botsford St. During the past year two ladies suffered sudden illnesses while at the rest room and with no phone on the premises there was a delay before a doctor could be contacted.

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, president of the Institute, reports that the telephone company has made a survey of the situation and finds that it is impossible to provide this service.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF WORK IN JAPAN

A well attended meeting of the W.M.S. of the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, was held in the church on Thursday, Feb. 1. Mrs. Richard Beckett presided.

The quartette of Miss Elsie Gibbons, Donald Deyo and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sedore sang one selection. William Rae, a returned missionary from China and Japan, was the guest speaker. Mr. Rae returned in September from Japan. His talk on the work of distributing religious material was accompanied by slides.

W.I. GIVES PROGRAM AT YORK HOME

Despite it being a cold, stormy night, a group from the Newmarket Women's Institute made their regular monthly visit to the York County home, Yonge St., on Wednesday, Jan. 31.

A sing-song featuring the old time favorites and familiar hymns was greatly enjoyed. Miss Gilmour at the piano provided the accompaniment. H. A. Jackson presented three interesting and entertaining films which were a treat for the residents of the home. The Institute wishes to thank Mr. Jackson for making the visit so successful.
